World Conference Sought To End European Quarrel

U. S., JAPAN MAY SIT AT PEACE MEET

Locarno Powers Agree To Ask For International Deliberation

LONDON, March 20.—(UP)—Capt. Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, told the house of commons today that Britain is out to restore confidence in international law and pave the way for the rebuilding of European security. Eden reported to the house on the agreement for handling the Rhineland situation which was reached by the Locarno powers. The agreement was published simultaneously in a white paper.

To Ask Conference

A white paper revealed that the powers had agreed to ask the league council to convene an international conference which would consider the following:

1. Agreements to reinforce collective security and sanctions.
2. Cementing of economic and commercial relations.
3. Disarmament.

Eden will not mention inclusion of non-European powers, but it was generally believed the United States and Japan might be invited, making it a world conference.

It was noted that he said the Locarno negotiations envisaged "a world conference under the auspices of the league to consider, in order, certain proposals made by the German chancellor, questions of security and limitation of armaments and economic relations between nations."

Eden's speech paralleled the contents of the white paper, which amounts to a vast plan to check and dispel the threatened conflict over the Rhineland, dispel the armaments race and overcome the economic depression.

Eden, announcing Britain's acceptance of the Locarno proposals, reminded Hitler that Germany had stressed her wish for relaxation of the tension, "which can lead only to disaster."

He said Joachim Ribbentrop, the German envoy, had told him the Berlin government would decide on its attitude after seeing the full text of the proposals.

Eden added that Britain's purpose is "to meet the very real peril of the immediately and grave critical international situation and create an opportunity for a settlement in Europe on a firm and enduring foundation."

DE MOLAYS RAID TWO PLACES

SANTA ANA YOUTHS CITY 'DADS' FOR A DAY

DOCTOR LOSES LAST HOPE TO ESCAPE PRISON

DR. FRANCIS D. COLTRIN, 77-year-old Fullerton physician convicted of second-degree murder and of performing an illegal operation upon a 17-year-old Santa Ana high school girl, whose death followed the operation, today saw his last legal defense swept away. The California supreme court denied his appeal from the trial court verdict and judgment, sentencing him to a term of from five years to life, for second-degree murder, and two to five years for performing the illegal operation.

The elderly physician is expected to be taken north to San Quentin within a few days, to commence serving his sentences, which the court ordered to run concurrently.

Word of the supreme court's decision was received here by Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis, who conducted the prosecution of the Coltrin case.

Dr. Coltrin's attorney, Sharpless Walker, had carried the appeal first to the fourth district court of appeals, which first denied it, and then to the state's highest tribunal, where defeat was again encountered in the fight to save the physician from prison.

He already has been incarcerated more than a year in the county jail, having been arrested on the charges March 13, 1935. A stay of judgment sentencing him to San Quentin was obtained after his conviction. In the hope that a successful appeal would save him the stigma of state prison.

The Coltrin appeal was based upon several grounds, including the comment of the trial judge, H. G. Ames, upon the prosecution's evidence, without commenting upon the defense evidence; and the refusal of the trial court to require the prosecution to produce an ante-mortem statement by the girl, which the defense contended tended to exonerate the physician.

Cecil Loses His Love For Bonfires

CINCINNATI, O., March 20.—(UP)—Bonfires have a certain attraction for Cecil Love, 14, but hereafter he is going to keep a comfortable distance from them.

The reason is he was struck in the nose by a bullet while standing near a blaze. It had been thrown into the fire by one of Cecil's companions and exploded.

JURY TO PROBE STORY OF FAKE HOLD-UP DEATH

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—(UP)—Investigation into the slaying of Mrs. Ethel E. Whitaker, 44, continued today as the district attorney's office announced it would present the case to the county grand jury early next week.

Samuel T. Whitaker, 60-year-old husband of the victim, and James Fagan Culver, 23, a transient, were held on suspicion of murder after the youth charged Mrs. Whitaker's husband hired him to stage a fake holdup during which she was slain.

Culver was arrested within an hour after the supposed holdup late Tuesday. He maintained his innocence until early yesterday when he told police that Whitaker plotted the holdup "to give his wife a thrill."

The retired organist denied the accusation but a coroner's jury yesterday recommended that both Whitaker and Culver be held for further investigation.

Capt. Bert Wallis of the police homicide squad said he was checking on three life insurance policies on Mrs. Whitaker's life. The policies named her husband as beneficiary in event of her death and carried a double indemnity clause in case of violent death.

U. S. EXPENDITURES PASS $5,000,000,000

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(UP)—Expenditures of the federal government during the current fiscal year went over the $5,000,000,000 mark for the first time this year in the treasury statement issued today.

The statement as of March 18 showed total expenditures of $5,082,044,690.82, as against $4,995,441,333.91 recorded in the statement as of March 17.

The figures showed expenditures in the current fiscal year to be running slightly ahead of the previous fiscal year. The statement as of March 18, 1935, showed total expenditures of $4,905,708,524.29.

Disabled Veteran Kills Wife, Self

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—(UP)—A disabled war veteran despondent over ill health, Cole Randle, 42, stabbed and beat his wife to death in her sleep early today and then committed suicide in a leap from a three-story window, police said.

A milkman going his rounds heard Randle's body hit the side-walk in front of his apartment. He called police who found the body of Mrs. Marian Wallace Randle, 34, nurse, in their rooms beside a blood-stained flatiron and hunting knife.

On the table was a note: "We love each other too much to be separated and we will go together. Cole Randle."

Former Recorder Justine Whitney To Get WPA Job

Former County Recorder Justine Whitney will shortly have a position with WPA in connection with a new mortgage project, it was learned today.

Details of the new project, or when it will be started, are not yet available, but County WPA Director Dan Mulholland, while not confirming the report that Miss Whitney would be connected with it, made no denial.

Miss Whitney resigned March 1 as county recorder, an office she had held for more than 20 years.

PUBLICITY CHEATS ORPHAN OF CALLING JIMMY WALKER 'DADDY'

CHICAGO, March 20.—(UP)—Starry-eyed Mary Patricia greeted the dawn today with a hungry wail and practically no chance of ever calling Jimmy Walker "Daddy."

Front-page fanfare such as ac-a-William B. Wairath, manager of the home.

Patricia Mary snuggled in one of the cradle's many cribs, apparently content to wait for another—and less conspicuous—parent to show up at the home which has already supplied children for Miriam Hopkins, Joe E. Brown, Pat O'Brien and Ruby Keeler and Al Johnson of the movies, author Pearl Buck and comedians Gracie Allen and George Burns.

CITY UNDER BOYS' RULE FOR ONE DAY

YOUTHFUL MEMBERS OF ORDER GOVERN SANTA ANA OFFICES FRIDAY

By MALCOLM BOSTWICK

A STRANGE but jolly interlude in the serious business of running the city government, with the youthful DeMolay members in complete charge, occurred this afternoon as a police radio car with siren singing, washed to the market headquarters of Ben Baker on Fourth street, and the barber shop of Joe Steele on Main street, where the men were "arrested" for "grave" misdemeanors. The "officers" were armed with billy club and gas gun and had no trouble in making the "arrests."

The "arrests" were made by the acting officials, Police Chief Maurice Lyan, Assistant Chief Francis Davis and Police Commissioner Ray Johnson. Hailed before City Judge Tommy Croddy, and prosecuted immediately by City Attorney Bob Fowler, the men were "convicted" and fined $1 each.

Eddie Sugden, house manager of the West Coast theater, also was captured by the three officers and hailed before Judge Croddy for staging a lousy show. City Attorney Fowler was "relentless" in his prosecution. Dr. Horton, himself, appeared as a prosecution witness with the hirsute argument still unsathed. z z z z z z z

Two Are Fined

Baker was "apprehended" for selling a dozen eggs, 11 of which were large and one of which was small, while Steel fell afoul the law on the charge he made an attempt to shave off the goatee of Dr. Roy Horton, according to the testimony. The entire action occurred in less than an hour, revealing the speed with which "justice" can be obtained with Santa Ana youth at the helm.

The interlude was part of the day's program of DeMolays, who permitted all officials to loll back in their chairs for a day of vacation while the city was operated by the hands of youth.

City Judge Tom Croddy assisted City Judge J. G. Mitchell today and remanded Don Kennedy, Southern California Junior golf champion, to juvenile authorities on a speeding ticket, ordering "Officers" Shelley Horton and Francis Davis to escort him.

WARRANT OUT FOR RUGBY PROMOTER

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—(UP)—District attorney's investigators today sought John V. Waite on a criminal complaint charging five counts of grand theft while authorities gathered additional data preliminary to issuing indictments on 15 other counts charging theft of Rugby Union funds.

Waite, secretary of the Southern California Rugby Union, disappeared a week ago with $10,000 collected here to bring the Oxford University rugby players to the United States.

The missing sportsman was believed to have boarded a plane for New York on the first leg of a journey to South Africa. He formerly lived in Jamestown there. His wife and son also are missing.

Pretty Waitress Is Losing Ground

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—(UP)—Prime requirement for a "perfect waitress" is not beauty but "good, solid feet," 1200 restaurant owners from 11 western states decided prior to adjournment of their convention today.

"Beautiful waitresses," said Sid Hoemaker, veteran restaurateur, "take the customer's mind off his food. Better places don't employ them for that reason."

SIX BURNED TO DEATH

BASSETT, Ark., March 20.—(UP)—Six persons were burned to death in a plantation house fire near here today. The dead are Edgar Meek, 30, his wife and two small children; his father-in-law and brother-in-law.

Ohio River Tumbles Across Island Taking Lives Of 16 In Boats

WHEELING, W. VA., March 20.—(UP)—Ohio river flood waters roared across Wheeling island today taking lives and catapulting houses in its path.

A rescue worker told William H. Yenke, a reporter, that he had seen 16 persons perish when the torrent upset boats in which they were fleeing their imperiled homes.

Search for bodies was prevented by debris piled to house-tops. Yenke did not learn the rescue worker's name.

Assistant Prosecutor William C. Piper asked Wheeling undertakers to prepare to enter the 2000 houses as soon as the debris can be cleared away.

The river was falling slowly but was still spreading death and destruction on the island. It was 12 feet above the flood stage of 36.

Yenke said he was in a boat on the island end of the suspension bridge when he talked with the rescue worker.

"He told me," Yenke said, "that he had been on the island helping save people from flooded homes since Wednesday night and that he had seen four different row-boats overturned. He said he saw the men disappear under the water."

Two additional deaths were reported from Weilsburg, W. Va., 12 miles north of here. Two women died of exposure in the Knights of St. George hospital. They had been ill in bed when the water drove them from their homes. Meanwhile, a food shortage appeared. Trucks throughout northern West Virginia were on their way to Wheeling with supplies.

CROP INCREASE FORESEEN WITH 1936 PLANTING

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(UP)—(UP)—Reports indicating increased planting of major crops this year spurred department of agriculture efforts today toward completion of the new $500,000,000 soil conservation program.

Details of the program—just what farmers must do to qualify for benefit payments and how much they will receive for conserving soil fertility—are expected to be made known late today or tomorrow.

AAA soil conservation and crop experts have been working 16 hours a day to round the program into shape in time for application of 1936 planting.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, in a farm and home hour radio speech, said the department hoped "to begin mailing out to the states a complete outline of the new program."

Wallace read the statement issued by President Roosevelt yesterday and reiterated the president's plea that farmers co-operate in the new program.

President Roosevelt late yesterday asked that farmers cooperate fully in the program as soon as it is announced. He pointed to the danger of large increases in production again flooding markets and scuttling prices.

Mr. Roosevelt said that while the major objective of the new program is conservation of the nation's soil resources, "maintenance of farm income was also a major objective."

"If farmers for any reason should fail to take advantage of the new act," he warned, "and especially if they should carry out their intentions as indicated in the department of agriculture reports, the consequent excessive production of such cash crops as cotton and wheat and tobacco might result once more in the wrecking of their prices and the mining of their soil."

"But if the farmers, in operating the soil conservation program, display the same energy and co-operative spirit which they showed in making the production control programs work, they will go far to protect both their soil and their income."

"HONOR SLAYING" DEFENSE OUTLINED

NEW YORK, March 20.—(UP)—Vera Stretz, blonde art student, will stake her chance for freedom on the defense that she killed her lover, Dr. Fritz Gebhardt, in a violent struggle to avert a criminal attack, it was indicated today when her murder trial opened in general sessions court.

Samuel Leibowitz, defense attorney, disclosed the defense plan during the questioning of Curtis Lee, a clerk who was accepted as the first juror.

Miss Stretz, "a woman of ice" according to police—played with a glove as Leibowitz asserted bluntly "there was no question" that she shot and killed the German scientist and industrialist in his fashionable Beekman Towers apartment last Nov. 11.

The 31-year-old university graduate was found near the apartment, a blood-stained nightgown and the fatal pistol in her hand-bag.

SIXTH SET OF TWINS

OSHKOSH, Wis., March 20.—(UP)—Hardest job for parents of twins is finding new names, John Putzer said. He qualified as an authority when his wife gave birth to Philip and Phyllis, her sixth set of twins.

HOLLYWOOD, March 20.—(UP)—Jack Oakie and Venita Varden will be married during a 15-minute train stop at Yuma, Ariz., Sunday night, the 30-year-old comedian disclosed today.

En route to New York and later Florida, the couple will be met by Justice E. A. Freeman when the Southern Pacific train Apache pulls into Yuma at 7:30 p. m.

At various times, the jovial comedian has been reported engaged to Mary Brian, Peggy Hopkins Joyce and virtually every other single, unattached woman in Hollywood.

GAMBLING SERVICE WIRE U. S. PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(UP)—The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. tossed back in the lap of the government today the problem of eliminating the use of its wires for gambling purposes.

The federal communications commission devoted two full days of its investigation of the telephone monopoly to bring out facts concerning the leasing of lines to racing news services, which in turn serve poolrooms, bookmakers and gamblers.

President Walter S. Gifford, who earns $296,000 a year as head of the world's biggest corporation, testified he was amazed at the lengths to which minor employees had gone in obtaining business for the race news services and protecting the company's machines in raids upon gambling establishments.

He said he had no idea such things were going on until he heard about them at the hearing.

BRUNO HAUPTMANN TO DIE MARCH 31

TRENTON, N. J., March 20.—(UP)—The execution of Bruno Hauptmann, convicted slayer of the Lindbergh baby, has been set for 8 p. m. March 31, it was learned today.

Invitations were mailed by Principal Keeper Mark O. Kimbrell to news correspondents and witnesses today announcing the time.

Only a second reprieve from Gov. Harold G. Hoffman will save Hauptmann. The governor has said he had "no intention" of granting another stay unless there is "startling new evidence." However, his investigation of the kidnap-murder has not been interrupted since he saved Hauptmann from the chair Jan. 17.

BUILDING INDUSTRY BOOSTED IN STATE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—(UP)—Continued brisk activity in the building industry accompanied California business, industry and agriculture into new high ground during February, Bank of America reported today in its monthly business review.

The bank's business index showed general improvement for the month over January figures and a 12 per cent increase during February over the same month last year.

The construction industry headed the upswing, showing a 46 per cent gain over February, 1935, building permits. The total for the month was six per cent ahead of January.

Bank debts, considered a reliable general business barometer, advanced more than 28 per cent over figures for February of the preceding year and retail sales showed a similar 14 per cent gain.

Actress Hurt In "Jinx" Picture

HOLLYWOOD, March 20.—(UP)—Margaret Sullivan's right arm was enclosed in a plaster cast today, the result of an accidental fall while working in Paramount's so-called "jinx" picture, "Hotel Imperial."

The dark-haired film star was walking across the set when she tripped over a cable. Her right arm caught under her as she fell.

Rushed to a hospital, Miss Sullivan had the fractured arm set after X-rays disclosed the break. The actress will not be able to work for at least six weeks, physicians said.

She had just taken over the leading role which Marlene Dietrich refused because it was the part of a chambermaid.

DEMAND PROBE OF HOME FOR BLIND

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—(UP)—A resolution, asking Gov. Frank F. Merriam to investigate assertedly "deplorable conditions" at the state home for the blind at Oakland, Calif., was forwarded to the governor today by the California Federation of Women's clubs.

The deplorable conditions have led inmates and officials to radical beliefs and drunkenness, a report to the federation's executive committee charged.

The report said inmates "received poor food, that sanitary apparatus were filthy and that the kitchens were in a bad state."

Superintendent Joseph B. Kelly was charged by the committee with negligence of his duties and intoxication.

FLOOD AREAS FIGHT DISEASE THROUGH EAST

others were cut off and screamed from their flooded houses for food. Water was five feet deep in parts of the business section. Telephone and power services were crippled badly.

Much of the Connecticut valley from Vermont, through western Massachusetts and Connecticut to the sea was under water. Springfield, Mass., was inundated in part. Twenty thousand homeless huddled in makeshift barracks. Power failed.

The Merrimack river at Haverhill, Mass., was at an all-time high. Water was five to seven feet deep in part of the city. Bridges were torn out and factories flooded in Maine.

Ohio Town Hard Hit
The Ohio river flood, receding in Wheeling, W. Va., where 22 were known dead and scores missing, swept down on Marietta, O., Parkersburg, W. Va., and other towns. The water swirled five feet deep in the business section of Marietta.

The raging Susquehanna began to recede in central Pennsylvania, leaving a trail of death and wreckage in scores of cities and towns. The crest of the Potomac river flood passed Washington without causing serious damage, but President Roosevelt postponed his Florida vacation another 24 hours in order to correlate relief measures.

Canada came into the flood picture with reports of at least $1,000,000 property damage in Quebec province due to floods on the St. Lawrence, Ottawa and lesser rivers. Traffic was paralyzed in many sections. Heavy rains inundated a 15-mile area in southern New Brunswick.

GOVERNMENT MOVES TO COMBAT DISEASE SPREAD

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(UP)—President Roosevelt again delayed the start of his vacation today to marshal vast government forces preparing to feed and house the needy and combat spread of disease in stricken states.

Every agency of government was coordinated in the drive to send relief to flood areas.

Sanitary engineers were dispatched by the public health service to Pennsylvania and West Virginia to aid in restoring disrupted

THIS NATURAL FOOD GENTLY REGULATES YOUR SYSTEM

Furnishes Needed "Bulk" for Regular Habits

Your doctor will tell you that keeping healthy depends far more on proper diet than on drugs, that common constipation is usually due to insufficient "bulk" in meals, and that patent medicines give you only temporary relief.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies gently acting "bulk" which corrects the cause of common constipation. This "bulk" takes up moisture, forming a soft mass which helps to cleanse the system.

ALL-BRAN gives your body the regular internal exercise it needs to prevent sluggishness. ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B and iron.

Studies on normal men and women have shown that this delicious cereal is perfectly satisfactory. Serve All-Bran regularly for regularity, with milk or cream—or use in cooking.

Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Consult your doctor if you do not gain relief this way. All-Bran is much more effective than part-bran products. Get All-Bran at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk."

Water Street Lives Up to Name

water systems, examining food supplies, vaccinate refugees against the ravages of typhoid, and hasten removal of sewage.

Six army bombing planes, loaded with 8000 pounds of food, took off from the Aberdeen Proving grounds for Reno, Pa., where 2500 persons including several hundred CCC workers were reported marooned.

Situation Still Serious

After a White House conference, members of President Roosevelt's emergency flood committee said today's reports confirmed indications that the Ohio river situation would remain serious until the flood waters pass into the Mississippi.

President Roosevelt renewed his appeal for at least $5,000,000 contributions to aid the Red Cross in sending rescue workers, food, clothing and medical supplies to distressed areas.

Proposals were made in congress to appropriate relief funds ranging from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

Red Cross reports indicated that flood distress was increasing hourly. Latest estimates were that at least 270,000 persons had been driven from their homes by high waters.

Reports to the public health service showed that distress from the health standpoint, was most serious in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia and Kentucky.

Dr. William F. Draper, acting surgeon general, said the situation was "extremely grave" in communities where water systems have broken down.

Tiny Baby, Born On Street, Loses Battle For Life

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., March 20.—(UP)—A 36-ounce baby girl, born prematurely on a busy street corner after its mother was felled by a truck, died last night after a 24-hour battle for life.

The infant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Womack, covered only a bare two-thirds of a hot water bottle which formed its pallet in an incubator.

It was born Wednesday night when Mrs. Womack was hit by a swerving truck as she sought to cross a busy intersection with her step-daughter, Mrs. Jane Miller.

The mother was not injured seriously.

DE MOLAYS IN FULL CHARGE OF CITY JOBS

Kennedy to the juvenile headquarters. Kennedy entered into the spirit of the occasion wholeheartedly.

Police Chief Maurice Lyman got an intimate glimpse into police activities as Police Chief Floyd W. Howard gave him free rein for the day. City Clerk Warren Mann gave an order to City Clerk Ed Vegely to accept a $6000 warrant from the county board of supervisors to be placed in the city treasury to pay off bonded indebtedness on three city improvement districts.

Fire Chief Clyde Files, with Fire Chief John Luxemburger, visited all five stations today and studied the records, councilman Ernie Layton said he was "fired" today as Councilman Phil Yould took his place and his badge.

Master Councilor Darrell Gaebé was so busy with Mayor Fred C. Rowland today, visiting various city offices, they could not be located until the noon hour at Masonic hall, where they and all other city officials, acting and otherwise, gathered for lunch, served by the Mothers' Circle for DeMolays.

Mayor Darrell Gaebé welcomed the DeMolay guests who dined on deliciously prepared chicken and trimmings, including cherry pie. The "vacationing" mayor, Fred Rowland, spoke on behalf of the officials and urged the DeMolays to join with all Santa Ana in a campaign of automobile driving care.

The problem lies heavily in my heart and it will be solved much more quickly if you young men will help us," he said. "Speed, uncontrolled, is the major cause of accidents."

The DeMolay quartet, Darrell Gaebé, Stanley Sebastian, Maurice Hill, Ralph Pagenkopp, with Lorraine Graves accompanying at the piano, sang two Negro spirituals, as the entertainment feature.

Rev. Harry Owens spoke interestingly on "Say Lord! What of Your Future?" An old maid was described as a woman who knows all the answers but is never asked any questions, the Reverend Mr. Owens said. "Don't regulate your lives so that you are never asked the questions," he said. He asked the DeMolays to answer with a "yes," the following questions, for success: Will you develop your character? Will you always help the other fellow? Will you seek understanding so you can be in a position to help the other fellow?

Proclamation Issued

The following proclamation was issued today to Santa Ana citizens, by Mayor Gaebé:

"I, Darrell H. Gaebé, Master Councilor of the Santa Ana Chapter Order of DeMolay, hereby designate Friday the 20th of March 1936, as Santa Ana DeMolay Day. At this time members of the DeMolay group will take over the various city offices and conduct the city's affairs for a day.

"I believe that this will be a very worthwhile experience for the boys of the chapter who participate in this program and it will do much to stimulate their interest in the organization and activities of the various branches of the city government.

"I heartily commend the city of Santa Ana to the DeMolay group for their cooperation in the observance of this day and urge that all good citizens take an active interest in this practical demonstration of good citizenship.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Santa Ana Chapter Order of DeMolay to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Santa Ana, California, this twentieth day of March, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-six.

DARRELL H. GAEBE."

Those De Molays who were actively engaged as news reporters today, included Bob Mixer, Hugh Neighbour, Bob Long and Creighton Hunter.

Besides Mayor Gaebé, other city officials today were named as: Attorney, Bob Fowler; auditor, Glen Cave; building inspector, Richard MacMurray; chief of police, Maurice Lyman; assistant chief of police, Francis Davis; clerk, Warren Mann; electrical inspector, Ralph Pagenkopp; engineer, Hans Bergsetzer; fire chief, Clyde Files.

This evening the De Molay degree will be put on with invitation open for all Masons and De Molays to attend the event. After the degree has been put on the Masons will be escorted to the regular Friday night dance held at the American Legion hall.

NUDIST STARTS FOR HOME

NEWARK, N. J., March 20.—(UP)—Miss Florence Cubitt, California nudist, left for home today fully clothed and without fanfare such as prevailed on her arrival after she had announced she would disembark undressed.

KEN Murray SAYS:

Looks like Dizzy Dean won't be the only hold-out this year judging from the way France is threatening to leave the league if they don't force Hitler back across the Rhine...It's funny they call an arms conference a "parley".... Can you imagine anybody playing a parley on The Four Horsemen?

La Belle France, sure that war is coming again, has completely remodelled and modernized the strategic weak points on her map.... Latest reports say that even the famous Mademoiselle From Armentieres has had her face lifted.

So, again it looks like Europe is going to be thrown into a turmoil through the work of that boy, Hitler.... Well, leave it to a paper-hanger to mess things up.

However, Loyds, the famous English insurance company, is betting nine and a half to one, against war within six months.... Maybe so, but was is one game where a long shot often hits.

Perley given sentence of year in jail

The story of Los Angeles parents who demanded $200 for the sale of their 16-year-old daughter in marriage to a 19-year-old Los Angeles youth who wanted to marry her, was told in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court today as Max Scanlan, the youth, was denied probation for contributing to the delinquency of the girl.

Unable to pay the $200 demanded by her parents for their consent to the marriage, Scanlan took the girl to Balboa and they lived there together for a week. His arrest followed.

Sentence in the case was deferred by Judge Allen to March 27.

Russell Perley, Santa Ana, also was denied probation by Judge Allen today, in connection with a similar charge involving a 13-year-old Santa Ana girl. He was sentenced to serve one year in the county jail.

Nasario Valenzuela, who had pleaded guilty in justice court, today asked Judge Allen for probation in connection with forgery of an endorsement to a relief check of $9.50, made payable to Gregorio Valenzuela, of Delhi.

Hearing of the probation plea was set for March 27.

PERLEY GIVEN SENTENCE OF YEAR IN JAIL

The story of Los Angeles parents who demanded $200 for the sale of their 16-year-old daughter in marriage to a 19-year-old Los Angeles youth who wanted to marry her, was told in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court today as Max Scanlan, the youth, was denied probation for contributing to the delinquency of the girl.

Unable to pay the $200 demanded by her parents for their consent to the marriage, Scanlan took the girl to Balboa and they lived there together for a week. His arrest followed.

Sentence in the case was deferred by Judge Allen to March 27.

Russell Perley, Santa Ana, also was denied probation by Judge Allen today, in connection with a similar charge involving a 13-year-old Santa Ana girl. He was sentenced to serve one year in the county jail.

Nasario Valenzuela, who had pleaded guilty in justice court, today asked Judge Allen for probation in connection with forgery of an endorsement to a relief check of $9.50, made payable to Gregorio Valenzuela, of Delhi.

Hearing of the probation plea was set for March 27.

NEWARK, N. J., March 20.—(UP)—Miss Florence Cubitt, California nudist, left for home today fully clothed and without fanfare such as prevailed on her arrival after she had announced she would disembark undressed.

Fullerton Boy Heads Vets Of Future Wars

Robert Fahs, Fullerton youth and sophomore at University of California, head of the "Veterans of Future Wars," organized on the campus at Berkeley, today sought affiliation with the Princeton University "mother" chapter of the organization.

With the organization of "Veterans of Future Wars" by the group headed by Fahs, an independent group seeking similar purposes was formed under leadership of Richard Newell, San Francisco junior and is making a rival bid for membership among the students.

A chapter of the "Gold Star Mothers of Future Wars" also was formed, with Eleanor Kessing of Berkeley, at its head.

The "Future Veterans" seek immediate bonus payments; the "Future Gold Star Mothers" want trips to the future battlefields so they can see the spots where their future sons will be buried.

HELEN JACOBS FINED

MORTLAKE, England, March 20.—(UP)—Helen Jacobs, California tennis star, was fined $10 in magistrate's court today for speeding.

Police explained service of the summons had been delayed because an American embassy car was involved. Miss Jacobs lived at the embassy and was using one of its cars.

AUTOIST FACES DAMAGE SUITS FOR $57,838

Besides facing a criminal charge of negligent homicide, Alexander Forbes, 49, of Anaheim, today was confronted also with civil court damage suits aggregating $57,838.7, filed in superior court by Elmer R. Schmitt, of Anaheim, whose two sons, David, 9, and Milton, 3, died as the result of an automobile crash on Palm street, Anaheim, last February 1.

Schmitt asks $25,000 for his own injuries, received in the crash; $15,000 damages each for the loss of his two sons; $861.24 for their medical and burial expense; $907.45 for his own medical expenses; $550 for loss of earnings while disabled; $520 for demolition of his automobile and rental of another car. Attorneys McFadden and Holden of Anaheim represent Schmitt.

James Heffron, 52, Anaheim sports editor, who was riding with Forbes at the time of the accident, was seriously injured.

Forbes was arrested following the accident, and subsequently was indicted on a manslaughter charge by the last county grand jury. His attorney, Leo J. Fris, filed a demurrer to the indictment, and was sustained by the court, which ordered an amendment. The charge of negligent homicide, involving a penalty of one to three years, was substituted.

Four new Works Progress Administration projects have received approval of President Roosevelt and the comptroller's office for operation in Orange county. It was announced today by Dan Mulherron, county WPA manager.

The largest project is for continuing the parkway and flood control work on the Santa Ana unit of the Santiago Creek project. For his project WPA will spend $21,564 and the city of Santa Ana, as sponsor, $11,627. The project will employ 104 men.

Another project of considerable size approved was to continue work on the Villa Park storm drain project at a cost of $16,857 to the government. No sponsor's figure was announced. The project will absorb a large number of men.

A project to do considerable improvement work in the San Clemente State Park was approved, for which WPA plans to expend $10,284 and the sponsor $3593. The project will use 18 men.

The fourth project approved was for improvement work on San Clemente streets, costing WPA $9196 and the sponsor $2653, employing 22 men.

Allocation of funds for the projects is expected to be made inside of 10 days.

TRUCK DAMAGED BY FIRE EARLY TODAY

A truck belonging to the Helms Bakery, Los Angeles concern, was damaged to extent of $50 about 2 a. m. today as a short circuit in the wiring resulted in fire, at the corner of Sycamore and Church streets, according to fire fighters who responded to the alarm. Another fire call, answered by the fire department at 6:40 o'clock last evening, revealed a hole burned in an awning of the William E. Otis building, 103 West Fourth street. A match or cigarette caused the slight damage to the awning, it was believed.

It would require 19 centuries to spend one billion dollars at the rate of $1 a minute.

CHARGES MISREPRESENTATION IN REPORT OF CONCLAVE OF CITRUS GROWERS IN ANAHEIM

Charging misrepresentation in a press report of a meeting of citrus growers here Wednesday night Dr. L. C. Deming, Anaheim grower and member of the board of directors of the Orange County Citrus Growers association, today issued the following statement:

"Our meeting Wednesday night, which had been addressed to our board, not only that, but our chairman previously had violated an agreement reached by the board last night at the monthly meeting of the Fire Chiefs' Association of Orange County. The session was held in Brea with State Instructor J. W. Baker, listed as the principle speaker.

"These are matters which I believe our members are entitled to know. Our industry has its problems, but they cannot be solved by destructive methods. I would caution members to study carefully any proposals for withdrawing from the association, and to stand ready to co-operation. Only in this manner will we gain the objectives we all desire."

"Since the organization of our association was started last October I believe I have studied its problems as closely as has any other man. We started out to do a constructive piece of work, not tear down an organization which has proved its value to our industry. Memberships were solicited under the impression that we were seeking a solution for the juice problem. We stated to prospective members that we sought co-operation with our marketing agencies.

"Only within the board itself has there been talk of withdrawing from the California Fruit Growers exchange. That thought was sponsored principally by our president, A. W. Kammerer of Fullerton, and William Wallop of Placentia. Wallop, incidentally, has but five acres in the exchange. In view of this fact his zeal for withdrawing is not easily understood.

"At the Wednesday meeting our chairman presented a petition which he asked board members to sign, withdrawing from our local associations, as well as from the exchange. When he received no favorable response he demanded the return of the forms. His action was not a request, but literally a demand. All forms were taken up.

"At no time during the evening was there a motion presented, and nothing transpired which could be construed as indicating unanimous opinion.

"Discussion upon the idea presented through the press yesterday by Mr. Wallop developed much opposition to any thought leading to withdrawal from the exchange. Mr. (H. H.) Hale of Placentia, and Ralph McFadden both spoke against the plan. They held it would be a great mistake.

"During the evening our chairman, though twice requested to do so, declined to read a letter from Paul Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers ex-

MIDWAY CITY BUSINESS MAN CRASH VICTIM

Joseph W. James, 55, proprietor of the Tee Pee Service station at Midway City, was instantly killed last night, on the Grapevine, near Bakersfield, when a runaway truck crashed into the rear of his automobile.

James left Midway City last night for Bakersfield where he had planned to visit his wife who is ill there in a hospital. He was driving his car down the Grapevine, a steep winding road, the climax of the Ridge route.

The truck, piloted by Sam Serio, San Jose, came hurtling down the grade and crashed into the rear of James' automobile, instantly killing the Midway City man.

Serio was taken in custody and booked at the county jail in Bakersfield on suspicion of negligent homicide after investigating officers examined the truck and found that it had been overloaded and driven with the brakes in faulty condition.

FIRE CHIEF OF COUNTY PLAN FOR CLASSES

Plans for organization of a training class for firemen, to be conducted in Fullerton, were outlined last night at the monthly meeting of the Fire Chiefs' Association of Orange County. The session was held in Brea with State Instructor J. W. Baker, listed as the principle speaker.

Approximately 30 firemen, representing all departments in the county, will attend sessions of the class. Santa Ana will assign three firemen to the course. The class will be to train members of each department as instructors in the uses of the various pieces of fire equipment.

It was announced at the session last night that the Pasadena Fire Department First Aid squad will be present at the meeting of the Orange County Firemen's Association to be held the night of March 24 at Seal beach. The squad will give a demonstration during the meeting.

An announcement of the Orange County Firemen's dance to be held April 28 at American Legion hall in Santa Ana.

SENTENCE MAN FOR INDECENT EXPOSURE

Herman Schroeder, 26, East Chapman avenue, Orange, was given a six months jail sentence yesterday in the court of Judge A. W. Swayze of Orange, and a fine of $500 was imposed on the young man who Wednesday pleaded guilty to a charge of indecent exposure.

Schroeder was arrested Tuesday night by Officer Thomas Town near the St. Joseph hospital after a watch had been kept nightly in the vicinity by Orange police officers for three weeks. He was unable to pay his fine.

Schroeder was accused of printing obscene notes and leaving them for a Santa Ana woman and women of Orange, as well as being indecently exposed in their presence. Both Orange and Santa Ana officers have been staking out for the man for several weeks, on complaint of the women.

Backs, who again called attention to the fact that registration closes March 26, and that only six more days remain in which to qualify for voting at the May primary.

All transfers of registration from one precinct to another, and changes of party affiliation must also be made by March 26, for the presidential primary. Backs pointed out.

FATHERS' FORUM AT YMCA IS PLANNED

Plans for a Fathers' Forum, to be conducted monthly at the Y. M. C. A. under auspices of the Boys' Work Committee, were announced last night at the monthly Father and Son Dinner.

Plans for the Forum were outlined by Councilman Ernest Layton, a member of the Boys' Work Committee. The session will be held monthly following the Father and Son dinner, with the fathers holding a special session to discuss problems that arise in their daily contact with their sons.

It is proposed to have a speaker at each of these sessions to discuss some phase of youth development. It was tentatively suggested that J. Gustav White, vocational director at Whittier College, give a series of five talks on "Helping Youth to Find a Career."

H. G. Nelson, principal at Julia Lathrop Junior High School, is chairman of the Boys' Work Committee and will assist in directing

TELEPHONE CO. SHOW TO OPEN ON WEDNESDAY

An open house program featuring new miracles of telephone research, never before seen in Santa Ana, will get under way at the local telephone building next Wednesday. It was announced today by E. S. Morrow, district manager of the telephone company.

The four-day telephone show, free to everyone in this vicinity, will include the interesting "Electrical Demo", made in the Bell Telephone laboratories, by which a person can speak and have his voice sounds returned to him five seconds later. It will be possible for groups of 25 visitors to "listen in" together while individual voices are tested, according to Morrow, who heads the open house committee.

"Sound Director" Another new and educational demonstration promised for next week's event is the "sound director". Morrow explained that with this apparatus technicians in charge will actually divide up the component parts of human speech and orchestral and vocal music. The results are said to be thought-provoking and highly entertaining. The equipment for this demonstration was being tested today in the employee clubrooms on East Fifth street. It presents in a novel manner some of the problems involved in local and long distance telephone service and radio network program transmission. To provide adequate space for the crowds expected, arrangements have been made to stage the program in three different locations. These include the main office, where local operators and technicians will show the public how they handle the city's $4,000 daily calls; the employee clubrooms, just east of the main building, where the talking picture program covering many phases of telephone activities will be in progress both afternoon and evening; and the company's garage, just north of the Central office, where several of the demonstrations and major exhibits will be shown. Preparations are being made to handle thousands of visitors.

7100 Telephones in City Morrow pointed out today that the local telephone plant has taken on increasing importance in the years since the last telephone show. More than 7100 telephones are now served by the exchange which employs more than 200 telephone people. The local telephone investment is now approximately $1,600,000.

First Day Guests Asked "With the new 'electrical echo', the sound director, the 'electric eye', and the talking pictures as new drawing cards, we are expecting the largest attendance ever recorded for a Santa Ana open house program," Morrow said. "Our guests will enjoy the show most if they come early in the four-day period and as nearly as possible to the opening hour. Our experience has been that the

French Air Armada Tuned Up for German Crisis

As troops were rushed to strengthen border garrisons to meet what the Paris government considered Germany's challenge in re-arming the demilitarized Rhineland, French aviators prepared for any emergency that might develop out of the critical situation in Europe. This view of the military airport at Bron, near Lyons, gives an idea of the vast armada ready to take the air.

RED CROSS IN CHURCH CHOIRS SANTA ANA TO RAISE $1200 "CRUCIFIXION"

A campaign to collect $1200 in the Santa Ana Red Cross district to aid distressed victims of floods in the east was launched throughout southern Orange county today following receipt last night by Dr. John Wehrly, chairman of the local chapter, from Dr. Cary T. Grayson, national Red Cross chairman.

Arrangements were made today for donations to be left with all local banks, and at Dr. Wehrly's office at 624 North Main street. The funds will be collected by the local chapter, and then sent on to Pacific headquarters at San Francisco. Last night members of the first aid class contributed $8.62 to start the fund. Another donation of $5 has been received, making the total on the opening day of the drive $13.62.

Communities in which subscriptions for the flood disaster fund will be solicited are Santa Ana, Garden Grove, Seal Beach, Huntington Beach, Laguna Beach, Newport Beach, Capistrano, San Clemente, Costa Mesa and Tustin. The telegram from national headquarters setting forth quota for the local district follows: "Reports received late tonight indicate 38,000 families in 11 states driven from their homes in flooded areas. This number expected to increase. These people all looking to the Red Cross for immediate relief including shelter, food, clothing and medical care.

"Minimum relief funds of $3,000,000 needed to provide care for flood victims for indefinite period until they can return to their homes. Please take immediate action. Raise your chapter quota of $1200 in behalf these disaster

RAYMER NAMED ON SLATE FOR SENATOR BORAH

George A. Raymer, former secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, is named as one of the proposed delegates to the Republican primary convention, pledged to Sen. William E. Borah. Circulation of petitions to place a delegation pledged to Borah on the ticket for the California primary ballot started today.

E. Weaver Campbell, Borah's state campaign manager, announced today that the Idaho senator will fill several speaking engagements in California prior to the primaries, May 5.

Entry of the Borah slate makes three slates of delegates in the field. One delegation pledged to Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, is represented in this congressional district by State Senator Nelson T. Edwards. Judge R. Y. Williams, represents this district on the unopposed delegation and Raymer represents the district on the Borah ticket.

ELEMENTARY EDUCATORS IN OPPOSITION TO PROPOSED REPEAL OF STATE SALES TAX

Members of the Elementary Education Association, last night went on record as opposing proposed repeal of the sales and income taxes.

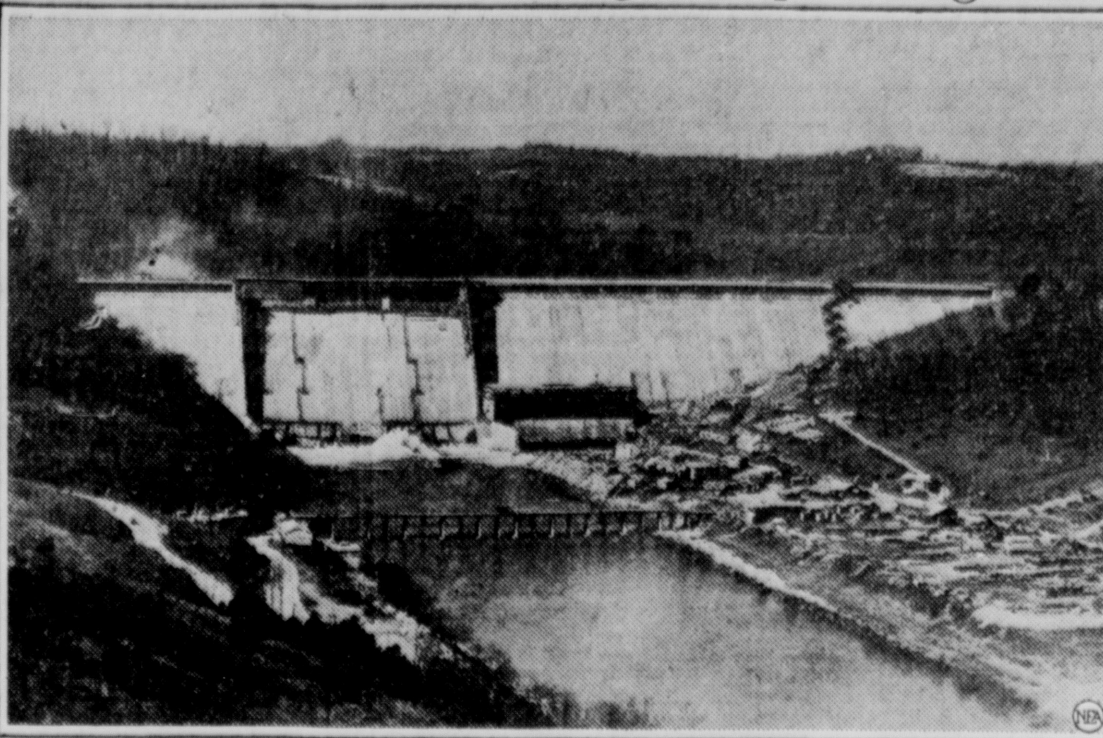

Holding their monthly session in the Tustin Knights of Pythias hall, members of the organization adopted the following resolution: "Whereas: This association is opposed to the principle of excessive taxation on common property;

"Be It Resolved: That we go on record as opposed to the repeal of the sales or income taxes at the forthcoming election."

Dr. Gertrude Whipple of the elementary curriculum section of the Los Angeles city schools, was the speaker and discussed "Reading in Elementary Schools" in which she outlined the technique of teaching reading.

Members of the Association enjoyed a turkey dinner, served by the Pythian Sisters and a program

Completed, Norris Dam Begins Impounding Lake

EDISON CO. STOCKHOLDERS IN SANTA ANA HEAR ADDRESSES AT MEETING OVER TELEPHONE

Approximately 1000 Southern California Edison Company stockholders of Orange county gathered this noon in the council chamber at the city hall and at the Edison company to hear by direct telephone broadcast of the annual meeting of stockholders in the corporation.

The meeting was held in Los Angeles for the continuance of the commercial department load-building activities.

Referring to the mutual interest of stockholders and consumers in the progress of the company, Mr. Bauer declared that this community of interest is a controlling factor in the management's policy and operating planning.

"We seek to provide good service and to effect economies in operation while maintaining our property in good condition and keeping abreast of improvements in the art of electrical service, predicated on the fact that the stockholder and consumer have a common interest in these objectives," Mr. Bauer said. "All of our policies also must be made with a view to their long range as well as immediate effect. Electric service must be furnished year in and year out, and just as the consumer cannot afford to jeopardize the future of his service by seeking to obtain it at too low cost, so must the stockholder realize that an attempt to maintain rates higher than those justified by the value of the service would, in the long run, work against his own interests because it would restrict the demand for the continued use of the property in which his investment has been made."

Mr. Lewis, in a review of operations of the company, announced that new business sales in 1935 were 16 per cent greater than was anticipated and it is anticipated that sales this year will be 17 1-2 per cent greater than last year.

Many large contracts for power were obtained last year, such as the new General Motors plant, the new Studebaker plant and many others. Negotiations are under way with a considerable number of concerns considering locating plants in this territory.

As an indication of the economy and proficiency of the Edison organization, Mr. Lewis said that kilowatt hours generated per dollar of total pay roll, for the last three years, has increased 30 per cent. The company now serves, he said, 467,000 active meters, the greatest number in its history.

The board of directors, at their organization meeting following the stockholders' meeting, re-elected officers as follows: Mr. Bauer, president; Mr. Mullendore, executive vice-president; Mr. Lewis, vice-president and general manager; Roy V. Remy, vice-president and general counsel; D. M. Frost, vice-president in charge of finance; W. L. Frost, vice-president in charge of sales; Will H. Fischer, vice-president in charge of public relations; B. T. Story, treasurer; B. F. Fluno, comptroller, and Clinton Peters, secretary.

Corey Speaks On War and Poverty

GARDEN GROVE, March 20.—Arthur Corey, assistant superintendent of Orange county schools, spoke on the subject "Abacabadra and the Dragons," at the Lions club luncheon held in Blue Bird cafe Wednesday. He compared crime, war and poverty with the dragon and stated that they could eventually be eliminated through common sense methods as superstitions had been in the past. The speaker was introduced by Charles Simpson, president of the club.

A report of the county council meeting held in Santa Ana was given by Charles Lake, W. A. Wheeler is program chairman for next week.

S. A. YOUTH IN MIXED CHORUS AT UNIVERSITY

R. Earl Motley, who resides at 424 South Broadway, will participate in the annual Easter musical program of the University of Southern California on March 31 in Bovard auditorium as a member of the Trojan Mixed Chorus. No admission is charged for the event.

Under the direction of Alexander Stewart, the orchestra will present a varied symphonic program, to be followed by "The Seven Last Words," Dubois' well-known Lenten cantata. The latter, a popular work with church choirs throughout the country, will be materially enhanced by the addition of a full orchestral accompaniment.

Included in the first part of the evening's entertainment will be a choral transcription of Shubert's stirring "Finlandia," the first movement from Cesar Franck's "Symphony in D Minor," and Walther's Prize Song from "Die Meistersinger," by Wagner, as well as other selections.

One of the most active groups on the Trojan campus, the Department of Musical Organizations includes, in addition to the Mixed Chorus and Orchestra, the Band, Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, and the A Capella Choir. These groups make annual tours of the state.

DRUNK DRIVER MUST SPEND 75 DAYS IN JAIL

Pleading guilty to a drunk driving charge before City Judge J. G. Mitchell yesterday, Charles E. Parsons, 27, Route 4, Santa Ana, was sentenced to the county jail for 75 days when he failed to pay a $150 fine. Parsons was arrested early yesterday morning on South Main street by officers who said he was driving "very slowly and cautiously" but was zig-zagging about the roadway, nevertheless.

WRITING TO SELL

By Ethel Lockwood

Writing the Short Story

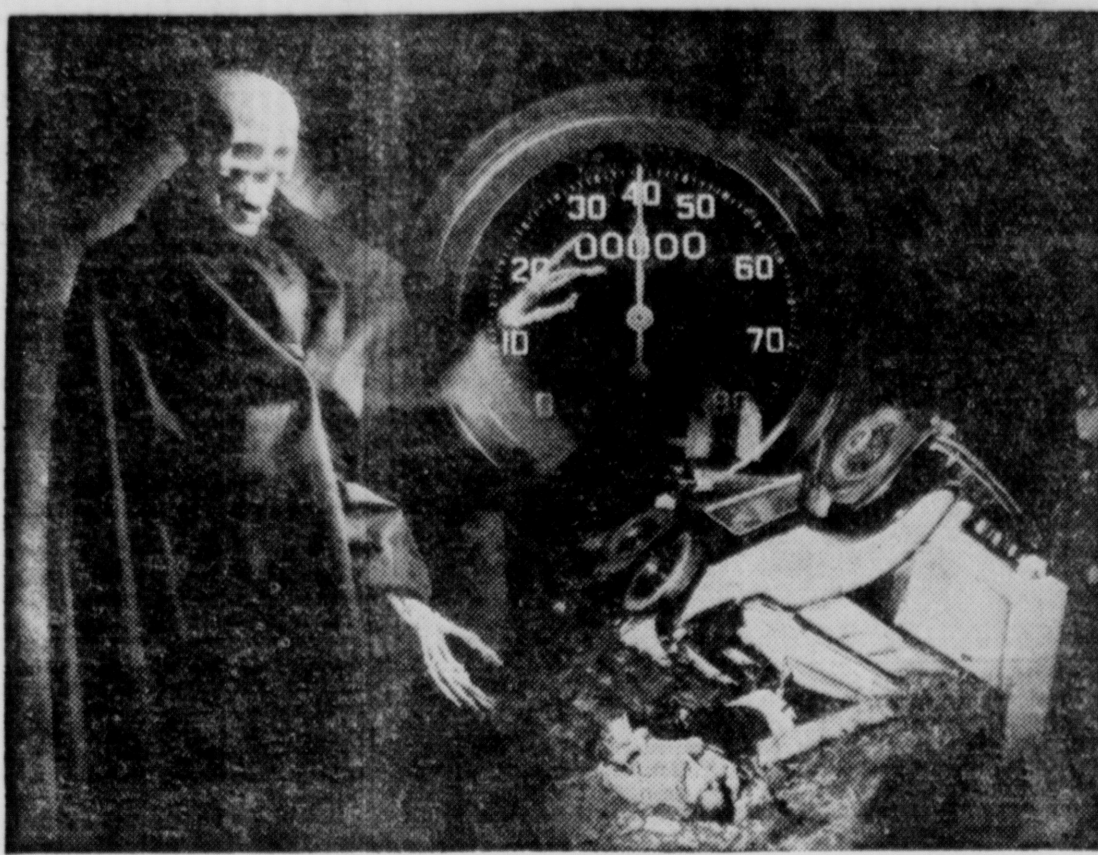

The "short short" story requires a very definite type of handling—definite and in a way different. It is invariably written from the end. Unless you have a snappy "kick" for the end of your story, you are not going to write a good short story.

Character sketches are sold occasionally, but the market is so uncertain it is foolish for the beginner to try it at all.

It takes a certain type of mind to concoct the short-short—an inventive mind, one might say, because the end is in sight almost from the beginning—or at least the end the reader thinks he is going to reach. It's that quick twist at the finish that upsets him entirely.

The mood is all-important in the short story. We have little time for characterization—each word must count. A story should be very definitely branded as to mood from the opening paragraph. If it is to have a humorous ending, it should convey that impression. Nothing is to be gained by deliberately misleading the reader with a false mood. Establish a legitimate mood, and keep it. Let your reader FEEL the humor, the romance or the irony from the first word he reads.

DEATH BEGINS AT FORTY!

Most authorities, admitting that high speeds are sometimes safe, will tell you that above 40 miles per hour, the risk of automobile riding increases tremendously and safety is bought only at the price of utmost vigilance. The Montgomery Ward Safety show to be staged here Saturday, March 21, 2:30 p. m. on Cypress between First and Walnut, free to the public, will reveal exactly how speed and driving mistakes take the lives of thousands of men, women and children every year. Gus Schrader and Lew Brown, famous race track drivers, with Jack Story as narrator, will demonstrate in person.

Not For Beginners

Few beginners should tackle the short story. Outside of the big slicks like Liberty and Collier's, the pay is very moderate—about $5 to $10 a story at the newspaper syndicates—and even they are mighty particular about the kind of material they buy.

However, if you are sure you have a new plot twist—we can never be sure we have a new plot—you should try your hand at the short story. Draw your leading characters with a few deft strokes, and get into your problem at once. The average short story runs around 1000 words, which is little more than three double-spaced pages of typewriting, if you type as I do, about 300 words to the page.

You may have to develop your story in several ways before you are sure of yourself. First of all, be sure you know WHOSE story it is; from which character's point of view it can be told most dramatically. Then when you ARE sure, be careful to maintain the same point of view throughout.

Write Story First—without considering the wordage. Get it all in. Then you may find you can start several hundred words farther back in the material than you thought you could.

Be sure your beginning is an attention-getter, that it is clear, and gets the narrative question to be answered at the end in such a way that it is thoroughly understandable.

If you have any "planting" to do, do it skillfully. Don't advertise it all over the place. You don't want your reader to wonder what you've "mentioned a gun for." You want him to get clear through the story before he realizes you have MENTIONED a gun. Then when it comes out, he can say to himself: "Yes, by golly, the gun was there all the time!" He appreciates the skill with which you have inserted the gun and not set him wondering about it AT THE WRONG PLACE.

And when you reach the end of your story STOP! Put in the kick, and leave the reader breathless. Don't explain. If the story is so constructed you have to explain, you should rewrite it—it is not a good short story.

Party Arranged By Grange Group

WINTERSBURG, March 20. — Members of the Wintersburg grange will celebrate the first anniversary of the organization with a "hard times" party tonight. The party will be held at 7:30 o'clock in the Woman's clubhouse at Midway City.

Officers of the organization are preparing an interesting and humorous program for the evening. Included in the program will be the awarding of prizes to both men and women for the most appropriate "hard times" costume. An illustrated lecture on "Safe Driving" will be given by representatives of the Inter-Auto Insurance company of Santa Ana.

Candy and other articles will be offered for sale and a quilt will be auctioned. Supper will be served.

"Lonesome Pine," Wheeler-Woolsey Films Opens Today

The double feature program which opens today at the West Coast theater presents the first outdoor picture ever filmed completely in color. "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and "Silly Billies," starring Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey. A continuous show will be screened tomorrow starting at 1:15 p. m.

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" is hailed as a spectacular technicolor version of the famous novel, starring Sylvia Sydney, Fred MacMurray and Henry Fonda. It is a tale of the hill folk in the Cumberland mountains and the feud that set family to fighting family for causes long forgotten.

The film presents Miss Sydney and Fonda as members of the same mountain clan, who all their lives have loved each other and warred together on a neighboring family. Ancient ways are changed, however, when MacMurray, a young engineer, arrives on the scene. He wins Miss Sydney's heart while Fonda sees the collapse of the only code he knows—to fight and kill for what he loves.

"Silly Billies" is said to be the funniest and most original of all Wheeler and Woolsey's screen offerings. The two comedy clowns tap a virgin field in using the picturesque covered-wagon era as a setting for their riotous nonsense. In the roles of a pair of quick dentists, they set forth to pull all the teeth in the wild and woolly west, and find themselves involved in trouble up to their necks.

RUENA PARK

Miss Amy Wheeler, accompanied by Santa Ana relatives have returned after a vacation at Palm Springs.

Mrs. Lillis Stowe, a former resident, has returned to her home in San Diego after an extended visit with relatives here.

Arthur Corry of Santa Ana, assistant county superintendent of schools, was the speaker at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Kiwanis club held at the Woman's clubhouse. He discussed various forms of taxes.

JAYSEE HONOR SOCIETY TAKES IN 6 MEMBERS

The Beta Gamma honor organization of the Santa Ana Junior college last night initiated six new members. Those initiated were the Misses Mary Paxton, Betty Lee and Frances Was, and Bill Dolan, John Ramirez and Harris Warren.

The initiation was held at the home of Walt Bandick, Orange, under the direction of Calvin C. Flint, dean of men at the college. The informal ceremonies were presided over by Al Markel, president of Beta Gamma and of the Associated Students.

Following the tradition of the organization, knowledge of those pledged was not given out until the morning of the initiation. The organization is the extra-curricular honor society of the school, with membership limited to five per cent of the student body, two-thirds of which must be sophomores and one-third freshmen.

Members are chosen for their outstanding and unselfish services to the college in extra-curricular activities and must maintain at least a "C" average in classes.

THOUGHT HE WAS DOOMED TO LIFE OF SUFFERING

Gly-Cas Freed Mr. Lyman of Neuritis Pains, Regulated His Kidneys and Quieted His Nerves; "Like a New Man Again," He Avers.

Hundreds of Santa Ana people have called on the Gly-Cas Man at the K. B. Drug, No. 3, 108 W. Fourth St., to inquire as to the merit of this new medical discovery, Gly-Cas, and to obtain a box or several boxes of this new remedy.

edy that they might give it a trial. Many sufferers when they first began Gly-Cas did not expect anything more than temporary relief as their cases were of long standing and no other medicine had been able to help them—but to their surprise after a short trial of Gly-Cas they were entirely rid of their suffering and enjoyed good and glorious health. One of the recent cases where Gly-Cas accomplished the amazing is that of Mr. Charles Lyman, 1203 4th St. S. W., Mason City Ia., well known contractor of that city, who made the following statement which tells in his own words his experience with this new remedy:

"I actually thought I was doomed to a life of poor health until I began Gly-Cas. For many months I could get no rest I suffered so with neuritis. The pains in my neck and chest were unbearable at times. It almost crippled me at times, too, I was so nervous that sleep was an impossibility. My kidneys got me up three and four times each night and caused me no end of trouble. Regardless of what I tried I could find nothing to help me and I had about decided to bear it out when I was persuaded to give Gly-Cas a trial—a friend was sure it was the medicine I needed."

"By the end of the first 30 days I was a new man," he continued. "I am free of all my former health troubles and feeling fine. All that pain of neuritis has gone, no more getting up nights with my kidneys, appetite is restored, sleep fine and I am glad to give all credit to Gly-Cas—for it is one medicine of the modern day that has merit."

So it goes—another case of the hundreds of thousands who have received results from Gly-Cas when all else failed.

The Gly-Cas Man is at the K. B. Drug Co., No. 3, 108 W. Fourth St., where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merit of this new valuable remedy.

Gly-Cas $1.00 box, 6 boxes $5.00, plus 3c per dollar tax, by mail. Cash must accompany order.

Spring Showers Have Their Merits

Clouds that have been ushering in spring showers are no exception in the matter of possessing nice, shiny, silver linings. Besides helping Mother Nature don her vernal robe, early rains are giving many a young blade the opportunity to do a Sir Walter Raleigh and help out a damsel in distress. When he found charming Anita Louise stymied by a Hollywood puddle, for instance, Actor Donald Woods picked her up and waded right in. He may pay for his gallantry with sniffles and sneezes, but, as any young man can tell you, it's still a bargain.

SPANISH WAR VETS VISIT HOLLYWOOD

A delegation of Calumit Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, members attended a meeting of Hollywood Camp No. 83, last night, in the interest of Department Patriotic Instructor Frank P. The office Rowe seeks is the starting point, in the rotation in office rule that has existed since 1909, for the position of Department Commander and if he is the successful candidate among the seven or eight that are running, he will be the Department Commander in 1939.

Those composing the delegation were: Comrade C. Wm. Hannah, Quartermaster Wm. Brown, Department Patriotic Instructor Frank P. Rowe and Past Department Commander Chas. E. Dixon.

PROMOTION
WASHINGTON, March 20.—President Roosevelt's build-up for his relief appropriation this year was what is known in the promotion trade as a "lalapalooza," meaning a thing of beauty and a work of art.

The grand scale on which it was managed would have made that old master promoter of synthetic excitement, Mr. Tom Rickard, himself, go off and lie down, if he had not already done so in response to a greater summons some years ago.

In his absence, no one seems to have caught on to the perfect technique, although Mr. Roosevelt has worked it the last two years with only a slight variation this year.

FIRST-PRESSURE

Mr. Roosevelt asked congress for $4,000,000 last year. You may recall that, just about that time, his good stooge, Mr. Harry Hopkins, began throwing fits daily in public because he had no relief money left. He actually curtailed and even threatened to stop relief for a while, although at that very time, Mr. Roosevelt was sitting upon hundreds of millions of unexpended balances, some of which he has not spent yet.

This year the gag was varied only slightly. While Mr. Roosevelt was slowly composing a request for another $1,500,000,000, Harry began issuing orders proposing to cut, but not actually cutting people off WPA rolls. For instance, the cut ordered in Illinois required curtailment of approximately 20 per cent by June 30.

This year and last, the effect was to bring Democratic politics down on congress from everywhere. They howled about what a bad thing it was to curtail, especially in this, an election year. For the past two weeks they have fretted congressmen into a state of mind where the legislators would be glad to approve anything Mr. Roosevelt asked, without serious question.

Through it all, Mr. Hopkins maintained silence and a straight face.

CLUBBING

A slightly new sideline frill was added this year. For example, the District of Columbia welfare board received private orders a week ago to cut the local relief rolls by two-thirds. This impossibility was suggested just a few days before Mr. Roosevelt's message went to congress.

It had an alarming effect on all the good budget-balancers hereabouts. They saw visions of disorders and riots. Not only that, but the relief money is sustaining many business lines whose leaders envisioned the possibility of this business being swept away.

The pressure they brought on congress was stronger than that of the soldiers' lobby for the bonus, although almost entirely under the surface. Thus, these advocates of a balanced budget were squeezed right out of their position. The demand for adequate relief became almost unanimous.

DISABLED VETS OF LONG BEACH S. A. VISITORS

One hundred citizens of Long Beach swooped down on Jack Fisher Chapter, and Auxiliary, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, Wednesday evening at K. C. Hall when Long Beach Chapter and Auxiliary, D. A. V., were guests of the local groups as the winner's prize in the annual membership contest, an annual feature.

Festivities opened with a chicken dinner, served by the Jack Fisher Auxiliary members, after which Commander V. L. Brown, chairman of the evening, called upon each man to introduce himself with the name of the organization with which he served in 1917-1918. As a result of this innovation many remarks were noticed throughout the hall, one in particular of the first meeting of two men who had not seen each other since their separation in France when the Long Beach member of this duo was despatched to the hospital.

Commander Brown presented a number of visiting dignitaries of the Long Beach delegation including Mrs. Minnie Ragon, State Auxiliary commander; Mrs. Ida Spencer, State Adjutant; Mrs. C. A. Canedy, Auxiliary commander; Earl Spencer, 7th district commander; George Fisher, chapter adjutant; Hugo Frey, chapter adjutant, the latter being held responsible for the Long Beach victory as a result of his untiring efforts in the late contest. Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Burke and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Harrell, of Riverside. Mr. Burke being past Department Commander.

Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour under the direction of Ashley Knowlton with the W. P. A. orchestra providing excellent music. During a short intermission Mrs. Hazel Story sang "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" and "Red Sails in the Sunset."

Hardtack, or "iron rations," for the British army now consists of an eight ounce cake made of cocoa, cocoa-butter, milk, proteins, and sugar. The cake is sufficient to keep a man alive for 48 hours.

Stamp News

BARTHOLOMEW'S
Statue of Liberty in New York harbor becomes the subject for another foreign stamp issue—this time from France. Uruguay, in 1919, and Peru, in 1924, issued similar stamps, while the statue appears on the current 15-cent stamp of the United States.

The French stamp is to have the value of 15 centimes, with a surtax of 50 centimes for benefit of foreign refugees in that country.

The U. S. Postoffice Department has broken a long-standing rule, by returning to cover collectors the envelopes in which they sent their China Clipper covers to the postmasters at Guam and Hawaii, and which had to go by the same first flight. These, probably, are even more valuable than the regular first flight covers, since they are "business mail," while the others were sent for philatelic purposes.

Tentative date for the next new U. S. issue—the Rhode Island commemorative—is May 4, the 160th anniversary of the state's "declaration of independence."

The Philatelic Agency at Washington has withdrawn the flat plate Mother's Day stamps from sale. You'd better complete your National Parks set, if you haven't already done so, before the sale of these stamps also is discontinued. (Copyright, 1936, NIA Service, Inc.)

Baseball and music will be combined Sunday at a picnic in Irvine park, next Sunday when members of the Orange County unit Musicians' Mutual Protective Association (local 687, A. F. of M.) holds its annual outing.

More than a hundred musicians and their families are expected to take part in events scheduled for the day, according to C. O. Cartwright, secretary of the county organization. Cartwright said that the musicians and their families count on a day of restful hilarity "of a wholesome sort naturally harmonizing with harmony and home interests."

A baseball game has been arranged for the afternoon and a band concert will be presented by the Federal Music Project's Orange county band, under leadership of Eddie Klein.

On the program for the band concert is included Euphonium solos by Kermit G. Vest and a cornet solo by Robert E. Moll.

S. A. BANK LOSES APPEAL FILED IN HIGH COURT

The superior court judgment in favor of George C. Perkins, who sued the Farmers and Merchants Savings Bank of Santa Ana several years ago, for rescission of an agreement to purchase a $15,000 mortgage covering the old county fair grounds site at West Orange, was upheld by the fourth district court of appeals in a decision today, denying the bank's appeal.

Word of the appellate court's decision was received by City Attorney L. W. Blodget, of Santa Ana, who represented Perkins in the litigation. The appeal had been filed by the bank's attorneys, R. Y. Williams and A. W. Rutan.

Perkins, who had purchased the $15,000 mortgage from the bank, brought suit to rescind the purchase, on the ground that the security had been misrepresented. The fair grounds site was represented as containing 18 acres, whereas, in fact, it only contained a fraction over 14 acres, it was alleged.

Superior Judge G. W. Freeman, of Riverside, heard the case and decided it in Perkins' favor.

The Man Who Knows

Whether the Remedy You are taking for Headaches, Neuralgia or Rheumatism Pains is SAFE is Your Doctor. Ask Him

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains . . . and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store—simply by never asking for it by the name "aspirin" alone, but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

Hymns Again Vie With 'Sweet Adeline' in Chicago

Chicagoans who were dazed when they heard the strains of "Rock of Ages" coming from the corner tavern can stop feeling their pulses. An old pre-prohibition custom was revived when, as shown above, a bunch of Salvation Army lads and lassies, the "Midnight Brigade," began whooping it up—for sweet charity's sake—in Chicago night spots. The proximity of Demon Rum hardly seemed to bother the good people as they mingled popular numbers with hymns to divert to their drum some of the change sliding across the bar, the only charge made by the "Midnight Brigade."

CLOWNS AND GIRLS GALORE IN AL G. BARNES BIG CIRCUS

MILT TAYLOR AND PAULINE O'BRIEN

Girls, girls, girls. There are upwards of 100 of them with the Al G. Barnes circus. Blondes and brunettes, Titian-haired and platinum beauties.

"Never so many and never more beautiful," was the way the enthusiastic young man ahead of the show explained it.

"Well, it is like this. Formerly, the stage had an insatiable lure for the choice beauties. But with the rapid passing of the spoken drama and the substitution of the movies, Hollywood has become the Mecca of these 'eye-fulls.' From all parts of the United States these queens of beauty flock to the movie capital. As only a very small percentage are ever used the market so to speak is glutted.

"Now right next to Hollywood is Baldwin Park, the winter home of the Al G. Barnes circus which exhibits in Santa Ana Monday, March 30, at 2 and 8 p. m. The result is each spring the circus is flooded with these young girls who wish to capitalize their beauty.

More than 100 are used in the 'Fiesta of the Rio Grande,' the gorgeous processional fiesta with the charm, romance and gaiety of old Spain that opens the big show. There are thousands to choose from.

"They are looked after with surprising care. The 'mother' is Mayme Ward, to whom the care of the girls is entrusted. They are not allowed to carry on conversation with strangers. Each night at 10:30 they must sign a register in the sleeping car to which they are assigned. Mayme Ward is a real mother to them. To her they take their cares and troubles. She settles disputes and iron out difficulties and sees that their wardrobe is properly cared for and that they are ready for the ring. It is a big task but one that Miss Ward has performed for more than a decade.

"The 'mother' is one of the most interesting characters of the circus. Her life is devoted to the welfare of the women performers. Her long experience in circus life has made her familiar with every detail of the business and she knows what to do whenever any emergency arises. She is cheery, sympathetic or admonitory as the occasion may require. How well she attends to her duties is attested with the fact that only a few changes are made in the course of a season."

WOMEN'S GLEE CLUB TO SING AT M. E. CHURCH

On their annual spring tour, the combined Men's and Women's Glee clubs and a capella choir will appear at the First M. E. church in Santa Ana Sunday evening.

The program includes the splendid types of musical literature suggested by the ancient classics of their epoch and the scholastic compositions of Christiansen and confers of this era.

Everything the choir sings is from memory, without instrument or visible means of pitch getting, but in some way they get it infallibly.

Included on the program will be numbers by the separate clubs, numbers by the Quaker Revellers, the men's quartette, the Quakerettes, a women's trio, instrumental ensemble, and solos.

Soloists to be presented will be Gretchen Mae Evans, daughter of the conductor, Frederick Vance Evans, and Clifford Byerly.

Miss Evans is a contralto soloist, and has carried several leading roles in operas in the past few years. For the San Gabriel opera reading club, she sang the part of Carmen, in the opera by that name. She has also at various times played the part of Delfina, in the opera "Samson and Delfina," the alto lead from Rigo-

A $28,500 damage suit, charging malpractice, was filed in superior court yesterday against Dr. Arthur C. Robbins, of Garden Grove, by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Rumbaugh.

The suit was based upon asserted treatment of an arm fracture for Mrs. Edna Rumbaugh, the wife, by Dr. Robbins, last August 23. Mrs. Rumbaugh asks $25,000 damages, her husband seeking $3500 for expense which he states the physician's handling of the case cost him.

The complaint, filed through Attorney A. E. Koepsel, of Santa Ana, recites that Dr. Robbins, in treating the fracture, drilled holes through Mrs. Rumbaugh's wrist, and inserted wires which were fastened to a mechanical device attached to her wrist.

The bones were not set and were allowed to overlap, in which position they remained, leaving a large lump upon her arm, which was made crooked and misshapen, the complaint alleges.

Mr. Byerly, baritone soloist, is a graduate of Compton, Jaycee, and is now a junior at Whittier college.

BREA-OLINDA WELL PERMIT

The Fullerton Oil company has secured a permit for a new well, Brea-Olinda No. 1, by the State Division of Oil and Gas. In the Huntington Beach field F. G. Butler has a permit to abandon Plavan No. 1.

IT'S A BIG ORDER...

that 608 gallons of gasoline you buy every year

Five gallons now. Ten gallons more a few days later. You buy 608 gallons of gasoline each year, even if you only run your car as much as the U. S. average.

That's a mighty large order. It entitles you to the true, straightforward facts about the gasoline you buy.

Accordingly, we solicit your 1936 gasoline order on these facts about Texaco Fire-Chief:

AN EMERGENCY DUTY gasoline . . . Texaco Fire-Chief meets the rigid Government specifications* for fire-engine and ambulance service. Yet it sells at regular gasoline prices.

TOURISTS CARRIED the demand for Texaco Fire-Chief across the country so that now it's sold in every State.

PURCHASING AGENTS buy it . . . for the exacting demands of great airlines. Among the important users who depend on Texaco products regularly are TWA, Braniff, Delta and Northwest.

FOUR OF THE FIRST-PRIZE winners for the past five years in the national bus line contests for efficiency in maintenance and operation have been regular users of Fire-Chief.

GASOLINE EXPERTS, such as Gar Wood, motor speed-boat record-holder, and others, favor Texaco gasolines.

There are more reasons . . . real reasons why you will like Fire-Chief. Try a tankful the next time you're out.

Texaco stations and dealers are everywhere.

As the Camera Sees Changing Russia

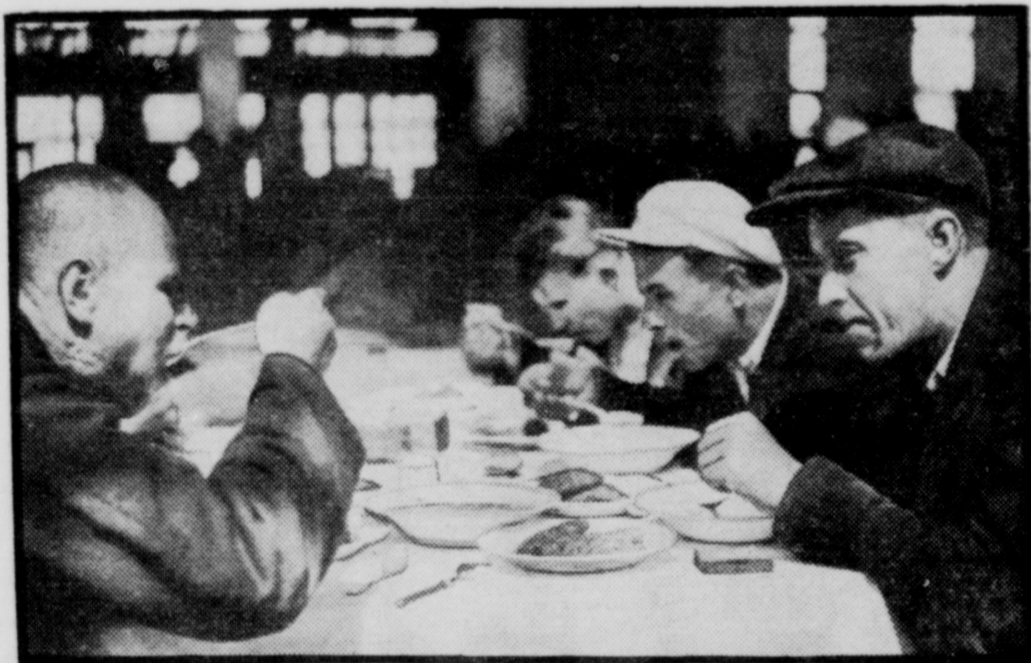

Active and ever-changing, Russia to-day exhibits the absorbing spectacle of a country which is deliberately making itself over. Factories, apartments, hotels, subways are being built, and strange "capitalistic" refinements are being made available to the proletariat. On this page is an interesting set of Russian photographs taken by Julien Bryan for the March of Time.

Off on a vacation, over a military road built by the Czar—Russian peasants (left) set out in their carts along the Ossetian Military Highway through the Caucasus mountains, looking forward with smiling faces to their holiday.

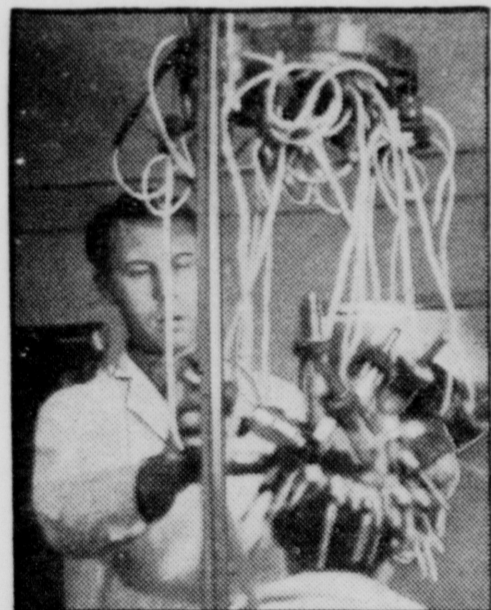

Something new—a Moscow 6-year-old gets his first taste of chocolate-coated ice cream.

A close-up of workers at their mid-day meal in a factory restaurant. What is especially interesting about this picture is the fact that the lunch table has a tablecloth—a thing which for years was absent from Russian restaurants.

A sky-scraper for Moscow—a 14-story hotel now nearing completion in the Russian capital. The first floor of this building contains an entrance and station for the new subway, which was opened last year.

Even in Russia, women are interested in permanent waves. After many years during which such things were almost unheard of, Moscow's beauty parlors are today doing a landoffice business.

Food, and plenty of it, in the markets. Here's a fruit stand at a Black Sea port.

A smiling baby is a smiling baby anywhere. This youngster was photographed in a Moscow day nursery where his mother left him while she went to work in a factory.

Mannequins in Soviet Russia? Why, of course. Here are two models for a fashion show which was held recently at the Dom Modele, in Moscow. Six mannequins now get full-time employment in this establishment.

These holiday-seekers aren't fussy dressers, but they go for souvenir postcards like holiday crowds everywhere. The picture was taken on an excursion steamer in the Black Sea.

News Of Orange County Communities

Work On Municipal Water System To Start At Once

BEACH ZONING MEASURE GETS FIRST READING

SEAL BEACH, March 20.—Construction work will start immediately on the city's $50,000 water system, according to an announcement today following a meeting last night of the city council.

Approval of the Public Works administration of plans that will give this city its own water system has been received and the contractor, H. A. Peget, is ready to start actual construction as soon as a PWA inspector is assigned to the project.

The project, which will cost $50,000, provides for construction of a pumping plant, reservoir, storage tank and tower and installation of approximately 12,000 feet of pipe. The pipe will be used to transport water from the city well to the pump plant and to replace old lines in the city distributing system.

In two resolutions adopted by the council the mayor and city clerk were authorized to execute an agreement with the Orange County Title company to sell water developed on municipal water lands exclusively to residents of the city, and to accept deeds from the Helman estate for water lands for the city system and for the sewage treatment project.

The new master plan and zoning ordinance, recently approved by the City Planning commission, was given first reading last night after a long discussion between members of the council and owners of beach front property. Under the new zoning ordinance, beach front lots, originally sold as business property, will be designated as one-family residence lots.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leeper and a group of other property owners filed protests against the ordinance last night but were informed that the time for protests had elapsed.

City Attorney Burr A. Brown was instructed to communicate with the State Railroad commission asking for an extension of one year on construction of the Twelfth street crossing over the Pacific Electric tracks. The city attorney also was authorized to prepare a one year contract with Fred Metz, of Huntington Beach, for use of the dumping grounds at the Bolsa Chica sand pit.

Viollette stated that he was not at present at liberty to disclose the identity of his principals. Tentative plans call for the completion, by spring of 1937, of a hotel providing every facility for catering to the most exclusive clientele. Swimming pools, private beach, sun-roofs and cabanas will be featured, it was stated. The music will be

Communications are expected momentarily from Governor Frank Merriam, the governor of Lower California, and the governor of Arizona, Welch stated, as they and many other dignitaries of the western states have been asked to represent their districts on the committee.

According to tentative arrangements, escorting flagships of the governors in attendance on the opening day of the festa will form one of the main units of the grand water parade. United States warships are expected to be off Newport-Balboa on the days of the celebration. Official gun salutes to the governors are being arranged for the evening of May 23.

Portus, president of the Laguna Beach Chamber of Commerce, took place Thursday afternoon at the chamber offices, a score of representative citizens being present, all having responded to a call for volunteers to formulate a program to be presented later to the city council.

In opening the meeting, Portus briefly outlined the purposes and aims, setting forth that the outcome of the recent address of C. E. SUPERVISOR OF ART SPEAKS AT BEACH SESSION

NEWPORT HEIGHTS, March 20.—Mrs. Evadne K. Perry, supervisor of art for Orange county, spoke before a large group in the main auditorium of the Newport Harbor Union High school Thursday. It was one of a series in the adult education course that is being held there. Mrs. Perry supplemented her talk with dozens of pieces, including basketry, tapestry, woven and knitted articles, painted and carved pieces and pottery.

Many of the specimens shown had been made from discarded clothing, tin cans, scraps of wood and other things that usually are thrown into the rubbish heap. Art in handicraft projects can and is taking a prominent place along with music, painting and other of the older established projects in skill, she said.

Mrs. E. S. Dixon, president of the Newport Beach P. T. A., was in charge of the meeting.

It was announced that Arthur Corey, assistant superintendent of Orange county schools, will be the speaker on next week's program. He will speak on the topic, "Merchants of Death." The sessions are being held between the hours of 9:30 and 11:30 o'clock each Thursday. A competent caretaker is employed to care for small children.

TOBY RYAN, in works behind the jewelry counter of a large Manhattan department store. She poses for a photograph. He is a store advertisement. MARY HIATT, the photographer, tells her she has a camera face. Toby goes to dinner with BILL BRANDT, who works in an advertising agency.

A few days later Toby loses her job, due to the scheming of jealous MAURINE HALL, also employed in the jewelry department. Toby's efforts to find another job are fruitless. He sends her to BEN BLAKE, manager of a model agency. Blake tells her she must have photographs and arrange with Hiatt to take the pictures.

Toby goes to Hiatt's studio. Standing before the camera, she sees a young man watching from the doorway.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER IX
BILL BRANDT halted in the doorway, grinning at Toby. He did not speak, but one hand went up in a quick, gay salute. Toby smiled back. And all at once she forgot the heat and lights and her panic of a moment before. Toby was herself again, smiling and confident.

Hiatt's gaze followed Toby's to the door. He said, rather testily, "Well—"

Bill came forward. "Are you Mr. Hiatt?" he asked. "I'm from Amberson & Bianco's office. Brandt's my name. Charlie Leslie asked me to bring this over to you." He held out an envelope.

Hiatt took the envelope, drew out some folded sheets and glanced at them quickly. Then he slid them back into the envelope and dropped it on a chair. "All right," he said. "Thanks." He looked at Bill a moment. Then he said, "You and my model seem to know each other."

Bill smiled. "We're old friends." "Oh, is that so?" Hiatt's tone was neither friendly or unfriendly. He looked at Toby.

She was still smiling. She said, "Bill—I couldn't believe it was you for a moment. I was never more surprised in my life!"

"I was surprised, too," Bill told her. "What's this all about anyway? What are you doing here?"

Toby turned slightly. From the platform she looked down at Bill, her eyes shining and eager. The lights played on her hair, transforming it into a glistening halo. The pose she had taken unconsciously was easy and graceful.

Bill said, "Gosh, Toby, you look like a million dollars!" There was a sudden "click" and both Toby and Bill turned. "Oh!" Toby exclaimed, "did you take the picture?"

"One of them," Hiatt told her. "Didn't know I was going to, did you?" He smiled, pleased with himself. "That's all right. Like staying where you are—sometimes. Stay where you are—I want to make a few more shots—"

Bill interrupted. "Mr. Hiatt, do you mind if I stay for a while?"

"Well, ordinarily I don't like strangers around the studio when I'm working. But, this once, I guess it's all right."

"Thanks. I'll promise to stay out of your way."

Hiatt and his assistant began moving lights, changing the angle of the camera. Bill moved nearer to Toby. "Say," he said, "I want to know all about this. Are you working for Hiatt? Going to be a model?"

She nodded. "I'm working for him," she said, "but it's a long

Bill caught Toby's arm under his own. "So my young friend is on the threshold of fame and fortune!" he said. "That calls for a celebration."

story. I'll tell you all about it when I'm through." The photographer swung around. "Don't move," he told the girl. "I want you to stand there, just as you are. Going to see if I can't get a little more light on your hair—"

"Yes, I understand," Toby told him. "Oh, I hope they'll be good!" "So do I," Hiatt said, smiling. "Well, you two better be on your way and get something to eat. It's getting late."

Toby and Bill said good night and then left the studio. As the door swung behind them Bill caught Toby's arm under his own. He looked down at her, grinning. "So," he said, "my young friend is on the threshold of fame and fortune! Going to be a model. Going to have your picture on magazine covers and bill boards from Maine to California. Going to make a lot of money! That calls for a celebration, Toby. A regular, bang-up—"

She stopped him. "Oh, but I'm not, Bill. I mean this was just a sort of try-out. If the pictures are good, maybe I'll have a chance."

"The pictures," he told her, "are going to be knock-outs. Didn't I see them being made? Yes, Miss Ryan, tonight we celebrate."

The elevator halted and they stepped inside. A moment later they were making their way through the lobby to the street. Bill went through the motions of adjusting a monocle. He said, with an exaggerated accent, "Beastly nuisance, but, do you know, I was forced to bring the town car this afternoon. Silly whim of mine, walking—"

Toby grinned. "I have the same whim myself," she said. "Come on."

They set off down the street. Half way to the corner they passed a florist's shop, the brightly lighted window gay with spring flowers. Toby gave a little cry. "Oh—" she said, "aren't they lovely?"

There were tulips and daffodils and pink and blue hyacinths in the window. There were nosegays of purple violets, each neatly circled by green leaves. And in the very center, snow-white and velvet, was a corsage of gardenias tied with a silver ribbon.

Bill hesitated but an instant. Then, pushing her gently before him, he said, "We're going in here."

"Why, Bill!" They were inside the shop then, breathing the heavy odors of a dozen different flowers. Bill said to the middle-aged, spectacled man who came forward, "Gardenias for the young lady."

The salesman nodded. "We have some very nice ones," he said. "Something at about a dollar each?"

IMPATIENTLY, Bill pointed to the corsage in the window. "No," he said, "we want that one. It's for sale, isn't it?"

"Why, yes—of course." The salesman produced the corsage and Toby fastened it to her shoulder. Turning from the mirror she said, "Oh, Bill, they're beautiful! They're the loveliest flowers in the world."

"They should be. Didn't I tell you we were going to celebrate?" He handed the salesman a bill and a moment later received the change.

Out in the night once more, Toby said, "Bill, I've never had such lovely flowers. Never! But I shouldn't have let you spend all that money. We're going back to our old cafeteria—"

Bill looked up from the nickels and dimes in his hand. "What?" he said. "Go to that cheap, ordinary place on a night like this? Hardly!" Then he grinned. "I'll tell you what, though," he said, slipping her arm in his once more. "There's another one up the street that isn't so bad!"

"They dined at the cafeteria up the street. Over the day's 'special'—pot roast, cabbage salad, hot rolls and coffee for 65 cents—Toby told the whole story. Why she had left Bergman's; how she had gone hunting a job and met Hiatt and how he had sent her to the Models' League; how she had gone from there to Hiatt's studio."

Bill was indignant when he heard what had happened at the store. "But someone must have planned that," he said. "They must have done it deliberately."

"I know. But what can I do about it?"

"You ought to be able to do something. Believe me—"

"I can't, Bill. Even if I knew who did it—I knew for sure—I couldn't force them to take me back."

"No, I suppose not." She went on, telling him about the Models' League and her talk with Ben Blake. Bill listened, smoking thoughtfully. She explained how all her hopes of becoming a professional model depended on the pictures Hiatt had made that afternoon, and they discussed this, too.

It was late when they left the cafeteria. Toby ruled out Bill's suggestion of a movie and they rode uptown on the subway. Bill's mood of gaiety had returned. It seemed to vanish, however, as they walked the blocks between Toby's rooming house and the subway station. A dozen steps from the door he said shortly, "Toby, there's something I want to say to you. I hope you'll understand."

The girl looked up quickly. She said, "Why, of course—"

He said, "Why, of course—"

He said, "Why, of course—"

ALONG MEMORY LANE

If you don't like track meets, or even to hear about 'em, you won't like this column today. It's all about the cinderpath, the Huntington Beach cinderpath where every mid-March they hold the Southern Counties Invitational.

They've been running it for 14 years; tomorrow they'll make it 15. Memory treacherous but let's try to touch some of the high spots of the past. We did you know the Southern Counties track meet did not originate in Huntington Beach? Santa Ana started it, back in 1922 and won its own meet. Ray Adkinson, now county superintendent of schools, was one of the organizers. He was a Saint coach in those days...

Performances were mediocre, compared with present day prep standards. Winner of the 100-yard dash was one Bill Cook of Anaheim in 10.2 sec. Yes, OUR Mr. Cook. Les Heilmann of San Diego doubled in brass, took both the mile in 4:50 and the 880 in 2:09. Missing of Santa Ana ran the mile hurdles in 27 flat. That would qualify him tomorrow.

Just launching what was to be a brilliant career, Ross Nichols of Huntington Beach won the high in 16.4/5...

The first meet was an athletic success, a financial question-mark. Santa Ana was glad when Huntington Beach offered to carry on the next year...Huntington Beach was in the midst of the first oil boom. Black gold was spouting out of lots once "thrown in" to those who purchased encyclopedias. And lo and behold there came this little paradise a track and field boom...

"Feet" Walker was coaching at Huntington Beach and he thought there was a swell opportunity to advertise the community through the medium of the remarkable material which swept in with the oil families...He took the meet off Santa Ana's hands...and all the merchants contributed liberally to purchase the place-winners expensive medals of a type never given before or since.

Huntington Beach was at it will for two years in succession...And Ross Nichols, Bill Kerr, Charley Rickmore, the Brothers Nash, Virgil Elliott and one or two others went on to greater heights. They won the Southern California championship; twice Huntington Beach shipped in with new riches, sent its crack team to the National Intercollegiate meet in Chicago, placing second in '23...The oil didn't give out but the material did...Yet Huntington Beach carried on...Still does.

The San Diego era began in '25. "Tex" Oliver coached the Hilliers to two victories in a row. Then he transferred to Santa Ana and won two more, missed making it five straight by a fraction of a point in '28, the year southpaw Bill Miller set a world's interscholastic record in the pole vault...Chaffey has been the dominant force in recent years...Champion of the past two seasons, the Ontario school is coached by Ernest Fischer, oldtime Pomona miler...

Huntington Beach has been weather-lucky. Only one meet in 15 has been postponed because of rain. There have been gusty days but not many. The meet always has been high class, competitively and otherwise...The events are run on schedule; officiating has been competent and the sportsmanship superb...

The old order track was a fifth-mile, occasionally caused confusion. There always has been a trace of a suspicion that Harold Breeding's record in the mile (4 min. 29.8 sec.) was set on a course about a hundred yards short of the prescribed distance. However, Breeding later proved he was capable of running 4:29 so the problem is still open to argument...Nobody will ever know for sure...

Another semi-controversial subject was created by Roy Kirkpatrick, great El Centro hurdler. In 1934 Kirkpatrick ran the high in 14.5 seconds, a world interscholastic record. But he knocked down two hurdles. So he didn't even get credit for a Southern Counties record which still stands in the name of Chaffey's Petch at 15.3. Strictly Kirkpatrick could shade in street clothes...Some think Kirk could get credit...But the A. A. U. rules are plain; they say no.

Kirkpatrick, incidentally, emerged from obscurity at Huntington Beach. An unknown soph, he came up from El Centro with Myrel Gillett and Leo Madlem in '31. Strictly a high hurdler, he never had run a flight of lows in his life. But he won the highs so handily that Coach Bob Armstrong entered him in the lows and Kirkpatrick won 'em in 24.5.

CAPACITY CROWD FOR 'HEFFRON CARD'

San Diego, Fullerton, Montebello Favorites

Four hundred athletes from 26 high schools, topping all records of the past 15 years, mobilize in Huntington Beach tomorrow for the annual Southern Counties Invitational track and field classic. Preliminaries begin at 1 p. m. with the first final event, the half-mile, scheduled an hour later. General Manager Harry Sheue has received entries from the following teams: Anaheim, Brea-Olinda, Beaumont, Chaffey, Corona, Citrus, El Monte, Escondido, Excelsior, Fullerton, Garden Grove, Harvard Military academy, Huntington Beach, Montebello, Newport Harbor, Orange, Puente, Pomona, Redlands, Riverside, San Bernardino, Santa Ana, San Jacinto, San Diego, Valencia and Whittier.

Tradition calls for a new deal every two years, so Chaffey's reign

THE RECORDS

100 yd. dash—5.8 sec., Koenig, Huntington Beach, 1925, and Heilmann, El Monte, 1925.
220 yd. dash—21.8 sec., Pollock, San Diego, 1923, and Heilmann, El Monte, 1925.

High jump—Schindler, San Diego, 6 feet 4 in., 1934.
Discus throw—Steiner, Chaffey, 137 feet 7 inches, 1925.

Of 1934-35 is likely to be broken. In fact, the Ontario brigade hasn't even been established as one of the pre-meet favorites. That dubious honor has fallen to San Diego, the largest school in point of enrollment taking part; Montebello, which recently made a joke of the Brea-Olinda relays by winning 40 of the meet's 44 medals, and Fullerton, state champion last year. The "dark horses" are Chaffey, Santa Ana, Riverside and Redlands.

Only two records seem to be in jeopardy. Bias Mercurio, Santa Ana's captain, has eclipsed the high jump standard several times this season, and Virgil DeLapp of

UNIVERSAL QUINTET PLAYS SEMI-FINALS

DENVER, Colo., March 20.—(UP)—The National A. A. U. basketball tournament moves into the semi-finals tonight with the four quarter-final survivors meeting in two contests to decide which pair clashes in the showdown game for the title Saturday night.

The Santa Fe Trails of Kansas City, defending champions, remained in the running by defeating Warrensburg, Mo., Teachers, 34 to 23. The Western Transits of Hutchinson, Kans., Globe Refiners of McPherson, Kans., and Universals of Hollywood were the other quarter-final victors.

The Transits defeated Kansas City Life of Denver, 37 to 36. The Refiners advanced Greeley State college, 67 to 30, and the Universals edged out Safeways, Denver, 31 to 30. The Transit and Universal victories were scored in the final seconds of play.

FRESNO LOSES HOLT FOR CARDINAL MEET

FRESNO, March 20.—(UP)—The "Stanford jinx" which appears perennially destined to defeat Track Coach Flint Hanner's ambitions for a Fresno State college victory over Stanford—which, incidentally, is his alma mater—cropped up again today on the eve of the team's dual contest here tomorrow.

Two weeks ago, Hanner was optimistic over his squad's prospects of sending the Indians home with a defeat in their traveling bag. Sometimes, however, 15 potential points have gone glimmering through loss of Milton Holt, Fresno's star sprinter and Broad-jumper, lost to the squad apparently for the season with a spike injury in his heel.

Competing on their own track, the Frances Willard junior high school Class C team overwhelmed Brea-Olinda's "Ceers" but the visitors' strong "B" team sunk the Indians, 45 to 36. The points in the "C" meet were Willard, 40, Brea, 23. Results:

JUDGE AND PREXY

Santa Ana City leaguers will have to remain good, or else answer to the court. Justice Kenneth Morrison, below, was unanimously re-elected as their president last night.

SCARPATI DIES IN COMA FROM RING INJURIES

NEW YORK, March 20.—(UP)—Tony Scarpatti, 22, died in Bushwick hospital today of injuries received Tuesday night during a prize fight with Lou Ambers of Herkimer, N. Y., at Broadway arena.

He was struck on the chin near the end of the seventh round and injured his head when he hit the canvas. The former Golden Glove featherweight champion was carried unconscious from the ring and never came out of a coma.

His skull was fractured and he suffered an internal hemorrhage.

BAMBINO OF JAPAN IN TRIBE UNIFORM

SANTA MONICA, March 20.—(UP)—The Babe Ruth of Japan may cavort in a Seattle uniform this season.

Manager "Dutch" Reuther signed the "Oriental bambino" Jimmy Horio, leading fence-buster of the Tokyo Giants last season. Peevish because the Giants failed to give him a promised bonus last year, the center fielder pleaded with Reuther to give him a chance against his former teammates in an exhibition series, starting today. The clubs move into Los Angeles for another series, Saturday and Sunday.

Manager John Nash again will rely on Pitchers Paul Holloway and Gordon Mallett, with husky "Bomo" Koral back of the pan. Bill Sweet at first base, Joe DiBisce second, Terry O'Neil third, "Chuck" Friend, shortstop, and Stan Kolstad, Floyd Hatfield and "Babe" Gordon in the outfield.

LOUIS 'INTERESTED' IN L. A. FIGHT BID

LOS ANGELES, March 20.—(UP)—Prospects for Joe Louis' Maxie Rosenbloom fight in Los Angeles this summer appeared bright today as the Brown Bomber's manager wired a group attempting to stage the bout that he was interested in their offer.

Julian Black, the manager, said that he would give an offer of a $40,000 guarantee "every consideration" if it held good after Louis fought Max Schmeling.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETE JUMPS 5:9

Julia Lathrop junior high class "C", "D", and "E" tracksters defeated the "A" and "B" combined teams in an inter-class meet at Lathrop field.

A feature of the meet was contributed by Robert Frias who leaped 5 feet, 9 inches to shatter his all-time record of 5.6, established last year. The nimble "B" high-jumper gathered 25 points for the "A" and "B" teams by walking away with five first places, Stanley Jiles (Class E) annexed 15-1-2 points.

The results:

50-yard dash—Frias (B), Kelchner (C), Elliot (B), Jiles (B), Cleary (B).
100-yard dash—Frias (B), Elliot (B), Jiles (B), Kelchner (C), Pollard (B).

Broad jump—Frias (B), 17 ft. 5 in.; Kelchner (C), 16 ft. 6 in.; McAlin (D), 16 ft. 2 in.; Jiles (B), 15 ft.; Elliot (B), 14 ft. 6 in.

26 Teams In Beach Meet.

10-TEAM CITY LEAGUE LIKELY: RULES CHANGED

Sweeping changes will be made in the composition of Santa Ana's traditional City Night Ball league this summer.

Meeting in the office of City Auditor Lloyd Banks, the board of managers last night voted to:

(1) Switch to the revolutionary new rules of the National league—13-inch ball, 50-foot bases and 3 1/2-foot pitching distance;

(2) Open the City league to 10 teams if that many applicants meet league requirements;

(3) Begin the pennant race in the Municipal Bowl the night of Monday, May 4;

(4) Change slightly the wording of a rule about "residence" of players.

Justice Kenneth Morrison, long-time president of the City league, was unanimously re-elected as was Commissioner T. J. Neal. District Attorney W. F. Menton succeeds S. B. Kaufman on the commission. Banks remains as secretary-treasurer.

There was no controversy and little discussion over the proposed rule changes. The managers adopted the new set-up unanimously.

The following teams announced definitely they would toe the starting mark when the season starts: Elks, 1935 champions; Joe's Grocery, First National bank, Commercial National bank, Carpenters' union, South Methodists, Knights of Columbus, and the Latter Day Saints (Mormons). The Southern Counties Gas company and the Standard Stations, Inc., are still seriously considering making it a 10-team lineup, largest since the "old days" at Lincoln field.

The 1936 schedule will be drafted at the next league meeting, April 15. Games are to be played every Monday and Thursday, and on the Tuesdays and Fridays that the Santa Ana Stars are traveling. Wednesday also may be used if the proposed Women's league does not materialize. President Morrison said the City league would not sponsor the girls' teams.

Residence requirements hereafter will enable City leaguers to be eligible if they live in Santa Ana, or receive mail by rural delivery out of the postoffice here, or work for a firm inside Orange county. Players also will be permitted to be identified with National and Orange County league clubs for a period not to exceed two weeks. This is expected to cover tryout periods.

Cal. Coxswains Get Revenge On Leering Rowers

BERKELEY, March 20.—(UP)—For a time, University of California crewmen had the bulge on Coxswains Grover Clark and Rush Clark, who, incidentally, are not brothers.

The pair, who sit in the stern of racing shells and shout at the laboring oarsmen, were afflicted with laryngitis and couldn't yell. The oarsmen leered.

But now the Clarks have developed a code signal, supplanting their shouted stroke beats by banging tiller handles on the gunwales.

United States Olympic Games honors loom for several members of this year's Fullerton union high school and district junior college water polo teams as the result of action taken by Fullerton's junior chamber of commerce directors. The young men's booster organization voted to sponsor a septet in the Pacific Coast elimination series, the winner of which will go to New York to compete in the final tournament.

BARNEY ROSS WILL FIGHT IN AUSTRALIA

Chicago, March 20.—(UP)—Barney Ross, world's welterweight champion, and Jack Carroll, champion of Australia, have agreed to a title match in Australia next November. Sam Pian, one of Ross' managers, announced today. Ross has been guaranteed $45,000 for the match and $5000 expenses.

RAMAGE CHOICE IN 'COMEBACK' BATTLE

SAN DIEGO, March 20.—(UP)—Lee Ramage, San Diego heavyweight fighter, will enter tonight's bout a favorite to knock out Jack Darcy, Oakland heavy.

Jacobs Claims Million For Bomber, Moxie

NEW YORK, March 20.—(UP)—Promoter Mike Jacobs predicted today that the Joe Louis-Max Schmeling heavyweight bout will gross more than $1,000,000 making it the first fistie attraction in history to hit that figure without Jack Dempsey. The match will be held either June 17 or 24 at Yankee stadium, New York.

Jacobs narrowly missed a $1,000,000 gate with the Louis-Baer bout last September. The gross was $948,352, but, including motion picture and radio revenue, it went over the million mark.

Alterations recently made at Yankee stadium will increase the fight seating capacity to slightly more than 100,000. The largest paid attendance previously for a bout in New York was $5,000, at the Dempsey-Firpo bout in 1923 at the Polo Grounds. With the new seating arrangement, Jacobs feels sure he will establish a new outdoor record for New York. The biggest fight crowd in history was 120,757—the first Dempsey-Tunney bout at Philadelphia.

There is a chance Heffron himself will be a ringside spectator, as he has been making considerable progress in the past two weeks.

Heavyweights headline an attractive lineup. Promoter Sam Sampson and associates went out of their way to stud the benefit program with outstanding talent.

The main even and semi-final both show big men.

Hank Lowe, a lucky 200-pounder who got a ducky decision over Lupe LeMon at the O.C.A. last Friday, goes into the windup against the pride of the Pacific fleet's heavyweights, "Buck" Kimball of the U.S.S. Idaho.

Kimball will be remembered here for his great match of last month with Art Johnson which was supposed to be an exhibition, but in that decision was rendered, but was a slugging bee extraordinary. Kimball got off the canvas to get a "newspaper decision."

Sailor Benson, Kimball's sparring partner and shipmate, meets Eddie Chapman in the chief support spot.

U.S.S. Idaho battlers appear in eight of Promoter Sampson's ten matches, fighting the pick of Orange county and Los Angeles amateurs. Both "Porky" Bell of Santa Ana and Jim Woodroff of Anaheim, sensational young newcomers to the game, are on the card. Bell opposes Sailor Martin; Woodroff takes on Bill Monty. Both assignments may prove a bit tougher than the kind Bell and Woodroff have been getting.

The complete card follows: Sailor "Buck" Kimball vs. Hank Lowe.

Sailor Sammy Benson vs. Eddie Chapman.

Sailor Hatcher vs. Sam Ropson.

Sailor Ford vs. Flash Flores.

Sailor Revak vs. Paul Brown.

Sailor May vs. Sammy Vasquez.

Sailor Sansota vs. Jimmie Merced.

BRANDENTON, Fla., March 20.—(UP)—"Dixie" Howell, infielder, and Steve Larkin, pitcher, today were released to Portland by the world champion Detroit Tigers. They will leave immediately for Stockton, Cal., where Portland is training.

SAINT GOLFERS ROUT LONG BEACH, 4 TO 1

Santa Ana high school's powerful golfers were one up on Coast league opponents today as a result of their 4-1 victory over Long Beach Poly on the Santa Ana Country club course yesterday.

In the No. 1 match Don Kennedy and the Jackrabbits' Andraison ended even up at the end of 18 holes. Both carded 78's. Jack Robinson defeated Long Beach's second man, Orr. Robinson shot a 79 to Orr's 82. Rege Quintana defeated Fullmer with a score of 85 to 90, and Frank Trujillo won over Marshall with an 88 to 100.

"Santa Ana's only set back was "Chuck" Palmer's defeat by Reise. Palmer carded 110, Reise 106. The Saints' next league match is at San Diego April 4. Coach Bill Foote has scheduled a practice match with Huntington Beach here March 26.

Star Squad Due To Launch Drill At Bowl Tonight

Manager George Lackaye will fasten his orbs on his entire squad of Santa Ana Stars tonight, swinging into the early part of the club's training activities. The National leaguers are scheduled to report at the Municipal Bowl at 7 o'clock for a two-hour workout.

Lackaye's pitchers and catchers, as well as a number of volunteer infielders, worked out for the first time last Tuesday.

Practice games get under way next week, with two contests booked with the Elks, City league champions.

Kimball, Lowe Clash In Heavyweight Fray

BY EDDIE WEST

The boxing fraternity tonight pays a striking tribute to the snowy-haired oracle of Orange county sports—Jimmie Heffron.

This will be "Jimmie Heffron Night" at the Orange County Athletic club, and an all-star card will be dedicated to the beloved Anaheim sports editor who is slowly recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident two months ago.

A near-capacity house is anticipated. Members of the American Legion throughout the county are co-operating in the ticket sale. Heffron being identified with the Mother Colony post, and they report a brisk advance business.

Dignified 'Diz' Asks To Be Called Mister

BY HENRY M'LEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BRANDENTON, Fla., March 20.—"Dizzy" Dean does not wish to be called "Dizzy" Dean anymore. He would appreciate it very much if the American public, his public, would, in the future, address him as—

Mr. Jerome Herman Dean or, Jerome Herman Dean Esq. He is weary of being a buffoon. He believes that he has advanced to a point where the nickname "Dizzy" is no longer in keeping with his dignity. He hopes that in the future the baseball historians will make no mention of his cotton-picking days down Arkansas way, nor keep a record of his rather independent handling of the English language.

In short, the older of the Brothers Dean feels that as the foremost player of baseball in the United States today, he is entitled to as serious consideration by the press as any other leader of any other industry.

Mister Dizzy (who might as well start humoring him right now) has demanded of the St. Louis Cardinals that any contract offered him include a clause which prohibits the team publicity man from mentioning him in any but a dignified manner. There must be no play whatsoever on his peculiarities.

He has demanded that when he is to pitch a game the club announcer speak as follows: "Batteries for today's game: St. Louis—Mister Jerome Herman Dean pitching and Davis catching."

Okay, Mr. Jerome Herman Dean! My opera cloak, please!

Tommy Harris, "the Little King of Song", will be the guest soloist on the Slice of Life variety show over an NBC radio network from 9:30 to 10 p. m. tonight.

SATURDAY
The revolutionary Octet, opus 11, by the young Russian composer, Shostakovich, which caused wide controversy when first played in this country, will be contrasted with Dvorak's "New World" Symphony No. 5 in E minor, opus 95, which created musical history when originally presented in the closing years of the nineteenth century, during the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music program over the Columbia network on Saturday, March 21, from 8 to 9 a. m.

"Haverford Harmony" by Sigmond Spaeth, will be the first number on a program to be presented by the Haverford College Glee club over the KJH-Columbia network on Saturday, March 21, from 9:00 to 9:15 a. m. The broadcast, which will originate from the studios of WCAU in Philadelphia, also includes "Prelude, Fugue and Chorale" by Carl Schumann, "Morning Hymn" by "A Spirit Flower" by Campbell-Tipton, and a spiritual by Marshall Bartholomew entitled "Ready When He Comes."

"La Rondine" (The Swallow), Puccini's comedy version of Verdi's "La Traviata," will have its first American radio hearing over combined coast-to-coast NBC networks on Saturday, March 21, when it is broadcast direct from the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House from 10:55 a. m. to approximately 1:45 p. m. PST. Lucrezia Bori will be starred.

The political pot at the nation's capital is boiling during these pre-convention months and as a result the weekly commentaries of Frederic William Wile entitled "The Political Situation in Washington" are assuming increasing importance. His next simple analysis will be heard from the studios of WJLV over the KJH-Columbia network on Saturday, March 21, from 3:00 to 3:15 p. m.

FRENCH IGNORE RARE LIBRARY ON STAGE CRAFT

PARIS, March 20.—(UP)—The world's largest library devoted to the theater, uncatalogued and virtually unknown, is resting uselessly on shelves or in unpacked boxes in Paris for lack of funds to put it at the disposal of students.

It is the collection made by Auguste Rondel, who spent his life amassing 225,000 volumes included in his library, which not only contains probably the most complete collection which exists of dramatic literature of all countries, but also thousands of works relating to all phases of the theater from primitive mimicry to vaudeville from the mystery plays of the Middle Ages to modern circuses.

When Rondel's two nephews, his only heirs, were killed in the World war, he left his library to the state. It was placed first in the Palais-Royal, but was dislodged by the Institute for Intellectual Co-operation, and so the theatrical library was relegated to the stacks of the library of the Arsenal.

Three librarians have been assigned especially to this collection, but they are seldom able to discover whether they do or do not possess works on subjects that the few who know of the library's existence sometimes come to seek. In an attempt to keep up to date the documentary section of the library, they read and clip theatrical papers and magazines, which takes most of their time. The formidable task of cataloguing the library itself has hardly been started.

Unfortunately, when Rondel bequeathed the library to the state, he provided no funds for its maintenance, although it had been costing him about $5,000 a year. Attempts have been made to get an appropriation for the library, but it has not proved possible to interest anyone with a finger on the purse-strings of the government.

JIMMY FIDLER in — HOLLYWOOD —

HOLLYWOOD, March 20.—Shirley Temple's studio is racing against relentless time in production of her pictures. Already Shirley is beginning to show signs of spreading into the spraddling age. Within another year or so, if studio fears are realized, she will graduate from the cute stage. Perhaps Shirley, unlike Jackie Coogan, Baby Peggy and other child stars, will be able to carry on, but odds are against it. Consequently, she is being rushed from one picture into another as rapidly as health will permit. Shirley's youthful resiliency makes possible an almost uninterrupted series of productions. An older star would long since have pleaded "nerves" and demanded a long holiday.

Every precaution is being taken to guard the child against nervous strain. Her sets are nearly as inaccessible as Garbo's. Visitors are barred because Shirley is easily distracted. That is not true of Jane Withers nor Freddie Bartholomew. Older than Shirley, they are better trained trouper. Either can laugh and play on the sidelines.

then step into a scene and emotive to a fare-the-well. Helen Hayes herself cannot turn on and off the emotion with greater ease than little Miss Withers.

Sore spot of the motion picture magazines is the unaccountability of fate. Printed on three-to-six-week deadlines, the fan mags must "publish and pray," as it were. I know several editors who refuse to publish stories about happy star-marrriages on the grounds that those marriages are too likely to pop wide open before the magazines can reach newsstands. The Clark Gables had just announced their separation when a movie monthly hit the stands with a feature story in which Mrs. Gable explained how she maintained felicity at home, and how she laughed off divorce.

rumors. She apparently failed to laugh of the last one. Thelma Todd's dead body lay stiffening in a morgue and her mysterious death was the center of a grand jury investigation, when one publication appeared with a laughing photograph of Thelma bearing the title, "Hollywood's Happiness Ahead Girl." There was also the case of a fiery star who gave the exclusive story of her "divorce" to a magazine interviewer. Before the publication could reach the stands, the actress changed her mind. But it was too late; she had to proceed with her plans, although she later called off the divorce and returned to her husband.

Public fondness for stars, I find, runs to groups. The dyed-in-the-wool movie fan seldom has just one favorite; he usually has several. It is almost invariable that the fan who likes Claudette Colbert also likes Kay Francis and Myrna Loy. Joan Crawford admirers include among their favorites Jean Harlow and Ginger Rogers. People who like Jimmy Cagney also lean toward Pat O'Brien and Myrna Loy. Greta Garbo fans save room in their hearts for Marlene Dietrich and Jean Muir. In each case, the groups are comparable either in personality or general appearance. Misses Crawford, Harlow and Rogers are play-girl types, for example. Gable, O'Brien and Cagney, however, are different.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By MARY E. DAGUE
(NEA Service Staff Writer)

While we usually choose tender steaks for planked dinners, I have served planked Salisbury steak with excellent effect. Always broil the meat before transferring it to the plank, which must be well oiled and very hot. If you like thick steak, cooked rare, broil about 8 minutes before putting it on the plank to finish cooking.

Another point to keep in mind is to put the piping of potatoes around the edge of the plank before you transfer the steak from the broiler to the plank. Finish cooking in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) until the meat is done and the potatoes are lightly browned. Then spread the meat with softened butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper and garnish with whatever vegetables you please.

Oil Plank Thoroughly
Be sure the plank is very hot and well oiled before you put anything on it. Oil it with a sweet, unsalted oil while heating it and then when ready to add potatoes and steak, brush it over with butter for flavor.

If you are serving a dinner planned to please the menfolk, add a salad of head lettuce with Russian or Thousand Island dressing and finish up with an open apple pie.

Sprinkle apples with cinnamon and sugar and pour over about 4 tablespoons thick sour cream before baking.

COURT RULING PLEASES BOTH SIDES IN ROW

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UP)—An unusual case in which justice triumphed and satisfied both plaintiff and defendant was unfolded here in the federal court of Judge Richard J. Hopkins.

The unusual case was revealed when Benjamin F. Armstrong, 49, Malden, Ala., was brought before the court and charged with "defrauding the government of hospitalization."

Armstrong, according to government prosecutors, had been in Leavenworth, Kan., veterans' hospital receiving free medical attention for five years. He is paralyzed from the waist down.

Armstrong, who contended he served in Company C, 16th Infantry, Rainbow Division, was brought into court to face another Benjamin F. Armstrong, 41, Millry, Ala., who applied for compensation three years ago. The latter was turned down because he then was supposed to be in a hospital in Kansas.

Armstrong No. 2 objected because he had never applied for admission to any hospital and an investigation was started, with the result that Armstrong No. 1 was accused of being an imposter.

When the defendant applied for medical attention six years ago he produced an honorable discharge. Government prosecutors branded it a forgery in court.

Judge Hopkins asked government physicians for their advice and they replied that the defendant was not in any condition to be turned out on the street. The government appeared to be in a quandary.

The defendant agreed to plead guilty when told he would receive medical care in prison. Judge Hopkins sentenced him to 10 years in prison and he was returned to Leavenworth, Kan., to spend 10 years in a federal prison hospital. It is the same town in which he spent five years in a veterans' hospital.

ANYWAY, SPRING IS HERE

Even if the picture below is something you never saw in these parts, how would you like to be the boy in this picture? How would you like to be even the dog? It would make anybody wag his tail to be in such surroundings. But, let's quit day dreaming and get back to work. Ho, hum!

SPRING ARRIVES HERE TODAY A DAY EARLIER THAN USUAL

By GEORGE HART

Leap year didn't confuse the Capistrano swallows, and they apparently took it into their calculations in arranging their return schedule; but it did jazz up the calendar so that Spring comes one day earlier than usual, this year.

After a big argument in The Register office today, it finally Register office today, it finally actually the first day of Spring, this time, instead of March 21.

Aside from being rather a blow to the office Smoothie, who had ordered his spats for tomorrow, no apparent damage has been observed from the phenomena. The sun rose as usual, it was presumed, although few saw it, and unless all signs fail, the sun will set this evening in full view of anybody who may be interested.

CHILDREN LIVE IN LAND OF MAKE BELIEVE AT NURSERY SCHOOL; LEARN MANY THINGS

By MARAH ADAMS

There's a boat in Santa Ana that sets sail each day for the Land of Make Believe from the port of Children's Dreams. It's a sturdy craft propelled by four oars—red and blue—and if you have no imagination you might think the oars were handles cut from brooms and the magic boat a big box made from rough boards.

To the 12 little boys and 164 little girls who attend the McKinley nursery school, the only school of the sort in the city, the boat is one of the many toys which ingenuity has brought into being from discarded odds and ends.

The school on East Third and Olive streets is under the direction of Mrs. F. L. Barrett, children attending are from two and a half to four years of age and school convenes from noon until 5:30 p.m. Supper is served just before dismissal. The meal is an event in the afternoon's program and the children sit primly at the gay yellow tables where they are served a meal planned by dieticians at the University of California and approved by dieticians here.

Supper Menu

Last night the supper menu included spinach, peanut butter sandwiches with lettuce, canned peaches and milk; tonight there will be a vegetable and meat stew of which the children are especially fond. Table manners are taught as the food is served in the pretty yellow and green dishes.

The pupils learn more from each other than they do from the instructors, Mrs. Barrett says. There was the case of the little girl who drank her milk noisily and who refused to be corrected in the habit. One day the little girl discovered that small Jimmy who sat at her table was a delightful companion and she asked to play with him. "No," Jimmy objected, "I wouldn't play with anyone who drinks milk as you do." A reformation in the matter of drinking milk took place at once.

All of the toys used at the nursery both out and indoors are designed for special sorts of exercise. Large packing boxes in the nursery and a ladder up a big pepper tree provides supervised climbing. There are rocking horses given by mothers and the first grade of the school made one table and chairs from orange boxes for the nursery.

Train of Boxes

A train is made from oblong cheese boxes and a playhouse with living room and kitchen is used to teach host and hostess duties. Mrs. Barrett has three helpers and a cook and a janitor. Mothers of the children take turn about in helping to wash the dishes.

An important part of each day is the two-hour nap. Cots and pads are furnished by the school and comforts and quilts by the mothers. Each child has a small locker for clothes which he or she identifies by a picture pasted on the front. A mothers' meeting is held each Friday afternoon and mothers made the curtains for the locker room which are decorated with appliqued flowers in pots.

Band Organized

A rhythm band includes all the children. All children are examined for health conditions each day. Helpers are furnished through the WPA. William Shattuck is the janitor.

It is an interesting sight indeed to see the group make preparations to go home. Both mothers and fathers of many of the children are working and excitement runs high as greetings are exchanged. Curly-haired Larry

OLD COUPLE WHO READ PAPER 20 YEARS PAY PLANT VISIT

By ELEANOR YOUNG ELLIOTT

Every day for the past 20 years, the Santa Ana Register has been a welcome visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Chilcoat, near Paularino on Rural Route 4. During the two decades, the civilized world has been torn by strife, monarchies have fallen, nations have waxed—or waned—in power, an entirely new social order has been attempted by a nation's peasantry. Our own vicinity has been flooded ravaged and earthquake wrecked. And always the Chilcoats have followed with deep interest, The Register's accounts of world, national and home affairs.

But yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. Chilcoat had a new experience. For the first time in their busy lives, they actually saw the process by which the news of the world, and the news of their own intimate neighborhood, is received, prepared, transmitted from nebulous ideas into black print on white paper ready for the thousands of eager readers.

For Mr. Chilcoat, a very lively old gentleman of 75, and his wife, just a year his junior, made their first visit to a modern newspaper plant.

Every department of The Register came in for their interested scrutiny, and they found the linotype machines and the big Hoe press especially fascinating.

Interesting Story

But if the mechanical equipment of a newspaper plant proved of interest to the visitors, they had something to give in return that was far more fascinating—to those with whom they came in contact. And that was the account of their early struggles in the new West. For the West was indeed new when the Chilcoats came up into Washington from their Texas home many years ago, when both were young people with dreams and visions in their eyes.

Washington had just been opened to settlement, and the young couple had a homestead grant there among the Indians, original dwellers on that land. The trip from their Texas home to Portland, Ore., could be made by train, but the country from that point on was virtually a wilderness, and the intrepid young bride rode those wearisome miles on horseback.

It was fortunate that she was a skillful horsewoman, for after they were settled in the first little home built on their claim, she used to ride 75 miles once a week, to the nearest settlement to get the weekly paper which they received, and the other mail awaiting them.

Many Difficulties

There were frequent difficulties arising from the nearness of the Indians, and after the Chilcoats' nearest neighbors were wiped out by an Indian raid, an appeal was made to the government rangers, who thereafter kept the little family under watchful surveillance, so that the death which stalked abroad, did not come too near them.

Eventually Mr. Chilcoat used his acreage for the raising of horses, but in 1916 the family came to California, and settled on the present home ranch in the Paularino neighborhood. There they give their at-

DRAMA AGAINST LIQUOR TO BE GIVEN SUNDAY

Hailed as a powerful argument against liquor, the drama "Prisoner at the Bar" will be presented here Sunday night at the Four Square Tabernacle. The play, featuring prominent Santa Ana ministers and laymen in the cast, will be presented at 7:30 p. m.

The play represents a chapter from the book of life and was taken from actual court records. The jury impaneled for the trial, doubtless will return a verdict condemning John Barleycorn, alias The Liquor Traffic, alias Demon Rum. George Y. Hammond, state superintendent for the California Anti-Saloon League, as Ralph Jones, will go on trial for murder. It will be charged by the state that Jones, under the influence of liquor, struck his wife with a heavy bookend. Mrs. Jones died on the way to the hospital. The jury must decide whether or not Jones must pay with his life.

Cast Announced

The Rev. O. W. Reinus will play the role of judge and will open court. E. G. Warner, will take the part of the sheriff and H. G. Nelson is cast in the role of court clerk. The Rev. John T. Stivers will act as prosecuting attorney with the Rev. W. C. Parham playing the role of attorney for the defense.

Wanda Goode will appear as the prisoner's little daughter; Mrs. Ora E. Hicks, the star witness and the Rev. H. B. Landis, the finger print expert from police headquarters.

The following well known Santa Anans will serve on the jury: Mrs. Iva M. Weber, Mrs. Hugh Ger-rard, J. B. Gray, T. V. McLurkin, Warren Bramley, Mrs. Vivian Switzer, Mrs. C. D. Lindsey, James Robinson, Daniel G. Buckheim, Mrs. Roy Fowler, Mrs. Ralph Fowler and Mrs. Frank Concklin.

The same cast with Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison, playing the part of the judge will present the play Sunday afternoon at Lathrop Junior High school at 1 o'clock.

Chlorine gas was discovered by Scheele, who called it dephlogisticated muriatic acid. First use of this gas during the World war was on April 22, 1915, when the Germans attacked British and French troops with it.

tention to the raising of chickens, and yesterday, Mrs. Chilcoat felt forced to hasten through her tour of the newspaper plant, because there were whole flocks of fluffy, peeping little chicks waiting for their noonday feeding.

Gala Banquet Marks Club's 10th Birthday

Wryende Maedonn club of young business women spanned the past decade last night in after-dinner talks and other features of the organization's tenth birthday party in Ebell clubhouse peacock room. It was in the same setting that the group held its first anniversary celebration, which was described last night by the club founder, Mrs. Theron Clark (Nancy Elder) of Los Angeles in a short talk.

Accorded honors at the head table with Mrs. Clark were Miss Mary W. Howard, Y. W. secretary, who gave invocation; Miss Genevieve Humiston, club advisor; Miss Mabel McFadden, Y. W. president. An introductory program was given by Miss Helen Glancy, who played piano solos. Miss Mary Ford was mistress of ceremonies, introduced by President Rowena Newcomb, who extended greetings to the 50 guests.

Toasts to Past, to Present and to Future, were given by Miss Agnes McKinstry, Miss Helen Bower and Miss Orine Olson. Variety dances were given by Miss Lorie Buell, accompanied by Mrs. Buell.

Dinner
Ebell Current Events section served the delicious dinner at tables given a springlike appearance with festoons of nasturtiums and greenery which established a green and yellow color scheme. The Misses Caroline Cushing and Dorothy Lindsey had fashioned the clever place cards which served also as programs and tallies for bridge later in the evening. Tiny birthday candles were at each place.

Two of the recently married members of the group, Mrs. George Wheeler (Billie Bruckey) and Mrs. Ralph Kolkhorst (Dorothy Dresser) were presented with traditional bride's cups.

Bridge
Miss Elsie Siemsen, general chairman of the party, had arranged for a bridge party in the lounge, where eight tables of cards were in play. Miss Hazel Lee won a galloping prize. Other awards went to Miss Genevieve Humiston, who scored high; Mrs. William Fritcher, low.

Serving on committees with Miss Siemsen were Mary Ford, Marie Smith, Grace Alberts, Invitations; Dorothy Lindsey, Marion Johnson, prizes and cups; Marie Smith, Rowena Newcomb, Katherine Spicer, Genevieve Humiston, hostesses, Margaret Tradewell, Katharine Blank, Adair Ellis, Maurine Dalton, Emily Butterfield, general committee.

Present were Jean Ema Rowena Newcomb, Agnes McKinstry, Katherine Spicer, Mary Ford, Carol Eskrine, Margaret Tradewell, Orine Olson, Genevieve Hanson, Elsie Siemsen, Helen Bower, Billie Bell, Katherine Blank, Marie Smith, Al-mira Hitterdale, Adair Ellis, Virginia Viau Fritcher, Dorothy Jesse, Janice Yetmar, Carmelle Swain, Dorothy Lindsey, Grace Alberts, Lola Skaggs Miles, Blanche McCoy, Hazel Lee, Helen Glancy, Gladys Stoneman Bratsch, Marian Johnson, Louise Dugan, Vena Belle Lutz, Dorothy Lutz Kolkhorst, Caroline Cushing, Genevieve Humiston, Betty Gould, Cecilia Plantamura, Billie Wheeler, Hattie Belle Wall, Caroline Smith, Hattie Delton, Emily Butterfield, Alberta Greene, Dorothy Dresser Kolkhorst, Virginia Anthony, Rose Ethel Lesh, Ruth Pitts, Inez Effinger, Elizabeth Boehm; with Mrs. Theron Clark, Miss Howard and Miss McFadden.

Social Briefs

Home From North
Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh, 407 West Santa Clara avenue, returned home this week from Santa Barbara, where she and her daughter, Mrs. Earl P. Holsington of Beverly Hills spent two days with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reagan and son, Ronald. Mrs. Reagan, the former Miss Helen Slabaugh, celebrated her birthday anniversary during the pleasant little family gathering. Mr. and Mrs. Reagan are reported nicely settled in their Spanish style home at 1712 Calle Boca del Canon in Santa Barbara, where the former has a position in the sales department of the Bill Lilly company. The young couple will celebrate their second wedding anniversary March 27 when they expect to be joined by a little group of Southland relatives.

Buffet Supper Comes As Sequel to Dance

Among the pleasant events which followed the annual Orange County Highway Patrol Officers' dance Tuesday evening in Valencia hall-room, was a buffet supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Turton, 1525 Martha Lane.

A lace-spread table was appointed in St. Patrick's green and white. Shamrocks were suspended from chandeliers, while smaller green symbols were presented to men in the party for boutonnières.

Bridge Group Accords Special Observance To Anniversaries

One of those two table bridge clubs, so popular among devotees of the game, met this week, when Mrs. Herbert Krahling was hostess in her home, 411 East Twentieth street.

There was a special little air of gaiety about the affair, reason for which was not far to seek, for it soon developed that the day had been chosen to fall on the birthday anniversary of Mrs. A. Albert Burket as well as of Ireland's patron saint. Both anniversaries received recognition. St. Patrick's day in the gay tallies and the green and white decorations for serving the dessert course, and Mrs. Burket's in the delicious birthday cake served with ice cream nut roll.

It was quite in order with the rest of the enjoyable features, that Mrs. Burket should score high in the subsequent bridge sessions. Mrs. A. J. Anderson went to the other extreme and held low score.

Mrs. Krahling's guests included in addition to the birthday celebrant, Mrs. Burket, Mrs. John J. Vernon, Mrs. A. B. Anderson, Mrs. A. J. Anderson, Mrs. Albert F. Johnson, Mrs. Warren Jones and Mrs. George Palmer.

Three Hostesses Join In Giving Layette Shower

Mrs. Dean Lawrence was complimented at a surprise shower Wednesday afternoon when her sister-in-law, Mrs. William Lawrence was joined by Mrs. V. C. Shidler and Mrs. C. A. Rousseau in entertaining in the latter's home, 1221 South Main street.

Layette gifts for the honoree filled a box prettily decorated with pink crepe paper. After the packages had been opened, a series of games was enjoyed.

Pink covers and napkins of Easter design appointed tables at the refreshment hour, when fluffy pink dessert was served with individual cakes bearing stork figures. Rannunculuses and other flowers completed the decorative setting.

Present with the three hostesses and Mrs. Dean Lawrence were Mesdames F. E. Stillwell, Carl Fisher, J. W. Parkinson, E. R. Kimmell, C. L. Helms, Norman Daschner, J. H. Patison, William Graybiel, J. W. Jones, Mabel Sherwood, C. M. Marvin, William Fields, Warren Brakeman, E. W. Ellis.

Girl Reserves Keep Busy With Bun Orders

Having obtained orders for more than 1000 dozen hot cross buns to be delivered the three days preceding Easter, Tri-Y Girl Reserves are anticipating that their goal of 2000 dozen orders will be filled within the allotted time.

The sale is being held in order that summer recreational and educational programs may be carried on at camp and conference. The girl who sells the greatest number of buns will have her expenses paid to Camp Torque, Catalina Island, June 20-27. Camp registration fee will be paid for the girl winning second honors; a Girl Reserve bronze color plate will go to the girl placing third.

Purchased from local bakers, the buns will be delivered to customers April 9, 10 and 11.

Poetry And Music Provide Entertaining Tea Program

An afternoon with the twin muses, poetry and song, was afforded friends of Mrs. George W. Bond (Agnes Davenport Bond) when they were invited Wednesday to her home, 567 East Myrtle street, to meet an interesting group of Southland writers here from Los Angeles as their guests.

The majority of her honor guests have had one or more books of poems published, and the impromptu program consisted of readings from these books or from published verse, with song numbers interspersed from time to time.

Santa Ana guests provided the music, with Mrs. Nelson Visel (Holly Lash Visel) and Mrs. Charles C. Briscoe as soloists, and Mrs. Briscoe, Mrs. J. B. Wolfe and Mrs. Malcolm Macdura forming a trio. Mrs. Visel's solos were "Slumber Boat" (Gaynor) and Schubert's "To Music" with Mrs. Macdura at the piano. The latter was accompanied again for her own compositions, "Omnipotence," "Rest" and "Her-alders of Spring," for Mrs. Bond's lyrics. The last named was Mrs. Briscoe's solo, but the other two were in trio arrangement.

Various Books
Jessie Allen Siple's charming "home poems" were selected at random from "Roses 'n' Everything," "While the Kettle Sings" and "Lavender and Gold." Stella Knight Ruess read from "Star Glimpses," "California Trees," and "In the Red Flame," and included a "Mountain Psalm" which has been used in various Southland Sunrise services.

Miss Esther Freshman, who has appeared in more than a score of magazines, as many probably as she is years old, read several delightful little poems. Lillian Mathilde Svenson read from "Thought Waves" and "Spirit Free," whose cheerful sentiments had in many cases, emanated from a hospital where she was recovering from effects of a serious accident.

Poems read by Ruth Willis expressed variety both in form and subject, and the hostess read her latest book, "Talking to Myself." Of the Santa Ana guests brought together for this pleasant afternoon, Miss Beulah May (author of "Buccaneer's Gold"); Mrs. Harwood Sharp (author of "A Little Patch of Blue") and Mrs. Robert R. Shafer, who has figured in many publications, responded to requests that they read some of their own poems, although the hostess read two which were especially asked for from "The Lure of the Open."

At Tea Hour
The Bond home was fragrant with flowers in every variety. The tea table, where Mrs. Rose Havely and Mrs. Jennie Crawford did the honors at silver tea and coffee urns, was garlanded with especially lovely effect. Roses, blue mauve and yellow tones were merged in the pyramid of flowers centering the lace cloth and flanked by pale green candles.

Mrs. Walter E. Foote and Mrs. Henry W. Guthrie assisted, as did Mrs. Clarence Bond, who arrived with her small son, Master George Bond II. Mrs. George W. Bond received in a pretty afternoon gown of black and white chiffon velvet with which she wore white gardenias, the gift of Mrs. Earl Morris.

Mrs. Morris is a member of Pegasus club, also represented by Mesdames Rose Havely, C. C. Fuller, Malcolm Macdura, J. B. Wolfe, W. E. Foote, Nelson Visel, Just Birtcher, Frank Vase and C. C. Pierian. Club members were Mesdames Jennie Crawford, Charles G. Nalle, Hugh Gerard, H. W. Guthrie, Earl Ladd, Jacob Bohlander and J. D. Watkins, while other guests included Miss Beulah May, Mrs. Robert Shafer, Mrs. Harwood Sharp and Mrs. Emmett Elliott.

Prizes in bridge were won by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Loughton, who held high and low scores. In the group with the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Bettis, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Loughton, Mr. and Mrs. Rex McGill, Mrs. Larry Newberger, with the latter's mother, Mrs. Rayne of Long Beach.

Father and Daughter Share Birthday Honors

Thirty-five guests enjoyed a party Sunday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Morgan, 1106 Orange avenue, in celebration of the birthday anniversaries of Mr. Morgan and of Miss Beverly Grace Morgan, daughter of the home.

Orange Avenue Upward and Onward class had planned the event to follow Sunday evening services. Games were played. Refreshments served included decorated cakes, one baked for Beverly by Mrs. Morgan; the others baked by Mrs. Morgan.

Just one more year for her seventieth birthday from this time, will enter upon her eighties, for it was her 75th anniversary that received this pleasant celebration, when her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Lowry, arrived from Hawthorne to be her dinner guests. Completing her guest list were Mrs. G. V. Cook, Miss Cora Craig and Miss Clara Paddock.

Dinner was served to the accompaniment of appropriate white flowers and greenery with the green accent introduced in many details, especially in the candles blazing from the birthday cake of the dessert course.

Order of Beaucant

Social Order of Beaucant completed plans for a benefit affair to be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in Masonic temple when members met this week for an afternoon business session.

Mrs. J. W. Hancock is general chairman of the party which will feature the screening of a sound picture, "Silent Enemy." A nominal sum will be charged for admittance and tea will be served.

Mrs. W. E. Patterson, president, conducted the business meeting this week.

Co-Hostesses Receive Guests For Dessert And Bridge

Mutual friends of Mrs. S. A. Jones and Mrs. Herbert Krahling yesterday enjoyed the hospitality of the two, extended in the form of a dessert bridge party in the home of Mrs. Jones, 2327 Benton Way.

Several friends had expressed interest by sending flowers including great plumes of flowering peach sprays from Mrs. John J. Vernon. As a result the home appeared with all the color and fragrance of a spring garden, making a pleasant spot in which to enjoy a session of bridge.

The four tables called into service, were arranged with embroidered linens and flowers for the dessert course preceding bridge. In the card contest, prizes went to Mrs. J. F. Richards, whose score topped all the others during the afternoon. Mrs. Chester L. Dale, Mrs. Tarver Montgomery and Mrs. Oliver H. Umberham.

SOCIETY

Spring Motif Applied To All Details Of Club Meeting

"Spring is here" chanted members of X. N. O. club Wednesday afternoon as they assembled in the home of Mrs. E. E. Lentz, 2042 South Broadway, and "spring is here" echoed the crisp print house-frocks which were being worn for the first time, in an informal but most attractive revue of "what the well-dressed woman wears about her home."

And if guests and their gay print frocks joined in the universal song, Mrs. Lentz came in with enthusiasm on the chorus, for she had arranged the most brilliant of the season's flowers in the baskets which graced her home.

Everything about the party indicated spring blooms and spring sewing, so of course each member produced her own favorite bit of needlework with which to occupy her fingers, while tongues raced on every conceivable conversational theme.

While the hostess was arranging tables with additional blossoms for serving a dessert course, Mrs. Eugene Edwards (Peggy Warburton) new bride daughter-in-law of Mrs. W. R. Edwards of the club membership, played piano solos in harmony with the prevailing vernal atmosphere.

Mrs. Lentz's guests included Mesdames E. E. Perry, B. A. Hershey, W. R. Edwards, W. L. Harbert, M. O. Johnson, H. R. Trott, E. E. Edwards, A. R. Bennett, Gene Edwards and R. A. McPhee, to whose home, 911 West

SPEAKER TELLS CONDITIONS IN ORIENT TODAY

ORANGE, March 20.—A program centered around Japan was featured at the meeting of the Rotary club last night, when wives of members were included in guests bidden to share the evening and dinner at the Orange Woman's clubhouse. The speaker was Dr. William G. Campbell, professor of education at the University of Southern California.

Dr. Robert Burns McAulay presided and four young Japanese girls from Garden Grove gave musical numbers. The group included nine-year-old Alice Set-suko Imamoto, talented pianist; Fumi Fugi, who presented two Japanese dances with song accompaniment, and Mary Murato, who gave two solos. Grace Imamoto accompanied Miss Murato and Miss Fugi. All were in graceful costumes, beautifully embroidered.

The meeting was opened with a devotional service conducted by Benjamin J. Brubaker and the speaker's table was centered with small flags of many nations. Jack Clayton was program chairman and the welcome to guests was extended by M. M. Fishback. The response was made by Mrs. B. D. Stanley.

Dr. Campbell told of his travels in Japan, China and Manchukuo. The present ruling family in Japan goes back for 124 generations, he said, and many Chinese families can trace an unbroken descent for more than 500 generations. Side by side in the Orient is the new and old, said Dr. Campbell and rickshaws operate in making connections with the fastest subway in the world in the city of Tokyo.

American born Japanese are larger than those born in Japan, said the speaker. One of the interesting things described was a Chinese funeral, where four bands marched in the procession, one playing a jazzed version of "Swanee River," combining the new with the old.

At the close of his talk, Dr. Campbell displayed a trunk of articles which he had purchased in Japan and China. Each person may bring into America $100 worth of goods duty free.

They were: "Over the Top," march by Brocton, "True Pals," march by Thornton, and "East of the Sun," orientale by Streber.

Drama Class
The drama class is now working on the play "Mother Carey's Chickens." It is a comedy drama written by Kate Douglas Wiggin. The characters are: Ossian Popham, Henry Corneil; Gilbert Carey, Gordon Wilde, Nancy Carey, Betty Rye; Mother Carey, Olive Schwartz; Kathleen, Jacqueline Bradford; Peter, not yet decided; Cousin Ann, Marilyn Dick; Mrs. Popham, Cora Dougherty; Lillie Joy Popham, Lourene Grisset; Ralph Thuston, Frank Lundgren; Cecil Lord, David MacMillan; Tom Hamilton, Henry Lord, Ph. D. Jimmie Shook. The performance is to be given in the latter part of May.

Museum Trip
A trip to Bowers museum was enjoyed by members of Mrs. Frances Benson's high seven class recently. Indian relics, butterfly exhibits, pressed wild flowers and a complete display of old Spanish relics interested the group. Business training classes under Mrs. Iva Webber's supervision are working on a banking project. Given a certain sum of money, the students present themselves at the school commercial bank where they fill out a signature card and proceed to deposit a portion of the money given them. The making of checks, receiving and endorsing checks, and the careful keeping of records are a part of the routine that follows. At the close of the month's transaction, students are given a bank statement to reconcile with the balance shown on the check stubs.

Class Projects
General language high seven groups under the direction of Miss Bernice Hart have completed a study of the origin of words. Each pupil has made a project illustrating how other languages have contributed to the English language. High eight vocation classes are studying problems on transportation and communication. These subjects are approached from every angle that would interest junior high age students.

Spanish classes, with Miss Bernice Hart as instructor, have decided to write a diary, in Spanish, which will cover a day's doings at home and in school.

High eighth classes under Mr. Scott are studying navigation instruments. The sextant and chronometer, latitude and longitude and time zones in the United States are all included in the work.

Championship
Miss Rideout's speed ball teams, Cotton-tops and "Saratoga" played Tuesday noon for the championship. The teams were well matched, but the Cotton-tops won over the Saratoga's by a score of 14-9. Firecrackers and Wings played with a score of 13-12 in favor of Firecrackers.

Notebooks depicting scenes from the "Merchant of Venice," the life of Shakespeare, pictures of his characters, etc., are on display now in the Lathrop rotunda showcases. These books were compiled by members of Mrs. Hill's high nine "Merchant of Venice" class.

Faculty Meeting
At a faculty meeting of Lathrop teachers, Principal H. G. Nelson gave a resume of the conference on direction and improvement of instruction and on child welfare which took place at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles during the week of March 9 to 13.

Frances Willard

Exhibit
Colorful blocks and scrap books are displayed in the exhibit cases this week by Miss Glancy. Mr. Bracewell is displaying a number of articles made in his metal shop classes. This exhibit includes a lamp and miscellaneous tools. Miss Davis has a number of pictures of famous screen singers on display.

Souvenirs that she brought from Europe are exhibited by Miss Elliott. These include bags, laces, coins, jewelry, perfume bottles, and post cards. A few of the many Willard pupils' hobbies are displayed by Mrs. Lund; one consisting of furs brought by Freeman Clause; another of stamps, brought by John Blair, Dexter Ball and Jack Neff; an exhibit of minerals contributed by Charles Bailey; and an autograph book loaned by Jack Howard. Mrs. Croddy has an exhibit of Chinese art.

New Troop
A new Willard Girl Scout Troop 3 for the seventh grade girls has been organized. Miss Greene is the captain and Charlotte Mock, lieutenant.

Betty Jean McMillan was elected chief patrol leader at the organization meeting. Constance Huss is the new assistant patrol leader; Claire Lee McMillan, secretary. The eagle was chosen as the crest. One of the aims of the troop will be to collect wild flowers.

Joy Crouse, Phyllis Bemis, Jane Holmes, Jane Barber, Frances Jean Smith, Beatrice Holmes, Merita Brown, Anita Johnson, Claire Lee McMillan, Betty Jean McMillan, Marilyn Boer, and Lorraine Morrison are the new members.

Operetta

Two hundred and fifty Willard students were privileged to see "And It Rained," an operetta presented by the combined Glee clubs of Lathrop, under the direction of Miss Edith Cornell, in the Willard auditorium.

A musical prelude by the Lathrop orchestra preceded the operetta.

The cast of characters included Richard Watson as Mr. Wise; Emerson Vanderhorst as Mr. Elmer; Cary, Milton Eliza, as Dennis Black; Florence Grisset as Mable; Madrie Herren as Mrs. Wise; Carolyn Wells as Mable's Rich; Lee Baker as John Rich; Cecil Herren as Curley Rich; Harold Hunsaker as Steele Black; and Ben Pannell and Zeller Robertson as Jack and Fred, members of the glee club.

Betty Plets, former Willard student who is attending Lathrop, directed the tap dancing.

Social Law Group

The home of Ruth Ann Segerstrom, 1914 Victoria Drive, was scene of the latest Alphonse Social Law group meeting. Billy Winterbourne and Ruth Ann Segerstrom were appointed program committee for the April dinner.

Mrs. Budd was placed in charge of the foods committee to be assisted by Mrs. Wright. The picnic will be held at Irvine park April 24.

McKinley

Men of McKinley P.-T. A. membership were highly successful in their plans for Tuesday's night's meeting in the school where they assumed full responsibility after the session was called to order by Mrs. F. H. Mitchell, president.

Various reports were given by the men, and after business was concluded, F. H. Mitchell, chairman, directed the entertaining program. Frances Willard Boys' Glee club, directed by Miss Esther Jean Davis, sang three numbers. Accompanists were the Misses Mary Jean Fowler and Elaine Owens. Frank Henderson, city superintendent of schools gave a comprehensive talk on taxation.

Members of the rescue squad of the city fire department under Captain Dwight Miller demonstrated the use of the resuscitator in an interesting manner; Billy Greene played piano accordion solos, and the program closed with the solo, "Mother Macree" sung by Paul Webb, one of the association fathers. Men had charge of the social hour as well as program, and displayed Irish symbols prominently in decorations and in serving Jello with whipped cream, shamrock cookies and coffee with Herbert Hildebrand as committee chairman.

Mrs. John J. Mills, president of the City Council P.-T. A. and Mrs. Richard Luers, Lowell association president, were special guests.

Miss Mary Andrews, Mesdames John State, Reynold Bullock, Herbert Hildebrand and Paul Webb were named as nominating committee in anticipation of annual election.

Packard, with guests including Mrs. Packard's brother, C. W. Burkett, and wife and children, Peggy and Alleen, of Huntington Park; her mother, Mrs. D. WEEKLY PANTRY SHELF

GOOD GARDENING

By Mrs. H. Cardozo Sloan, Corona Del Mar

Being sound advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for Orange County gardens.

A SHRUB.
A shrub of Pittsburgh Tobira is in full bloom by our office door. Its fragrance is so delightful that few people can pass it without stopping to sniff its umbels of creamy bloom, and I am surprised at the number of those who do not know what the bush is.

This Pittsburgh is one of our best shrubs, perfectly hardy, always green and attractive, covered with flowers at this time of year. To me the flowers have the fresh, spring-like scent of Eastern lilacs. The shrub grows from 4 to 10 feet tall and will occupy a considerable space.

By the way, if you have Pittsburgh around the place you must be familiar with their seeds and will understand how they got their name, which means "pitch seed." And if you aren't certain of the pronunciation, the accent falls on the second syllable.

A VINE.
Riding down San Diego way this week we noticed so many fine specimens of Solanum guttata. This vine gets its botanical name from a Swedish naturalist, Schönder, who in the early seventeenth century was in California. It is fortunate in the common name "Cup of Gold," the name lending an added charm to the broad, cupped flowers of rich brownish cream. A striking vine grown where its trailing branches, with large leaves, dangle and shimmer, and many fragrant blossoms can display themselves to advantage.

It is hardly but adverse to frost. Takes a good, sandy loam soil, plenty of light and sunshine. In the water from early autumn until past blooming. Keep a little drier during the summer. Don't over-fertilize if the growth is too rank the vine will not bloom so well.

Another Solanum, "Lamondia," is offered in Southern California, smaller in every way than the "Cup of Gold," and of more slender habit. The creamy white flowers have a fringed edge and are very attractive.

PERENNIAL ASTERS.
If you have discovered how beautiful and how dependable the Michaelmas Daisy is, you will be interested in the new dwarf forms of the hardy aster recently introduced in England but rapidly finding favor in this country.

These little plants grow only 1 1/2 to 2 feet tall and at blooming time look like a mass of tiny flowers. One of the new ones is "Little Blue Eyes" and "Little Pink Lady," both semi-double.

If you do not grow these hardy asters in your garden, hasten to make their acquaintance—you will never regret it.

SOME OTHERS.
There are interesting water species of other types which are also a delight in the garden. "Alpinus Guintha" is fine for rockery or border edging, grows 10 inches high, with large bluish purple flowers. "Amelita elegans" has sprays of soft lavender bloom, and "Amelita King George" is rich blue. "Maurea Cuscuta" of distinctive habit, cushion like in form, with charming flowers of a delicate mauve. Another which has met with high approval is "Piklita," which grows 2 to 3 feet, branching, free flowering, the flowers 2 1/2 inches across, are a pleasing blue with golden centers. Many of these asters bloom all summer. All are hardy, love a sunny position, will stand considerable drought, bloom abundantly, and are lovely as cut flowers.

An aster like flower of great value in the garden is the Erigeron.

This has the homely name of "Sea-bane" and there are a number of species in the United States. One specimen, found in the northwest Pacific Coast region, is the native plant from which many of the garden forms derive.

The garden forms are perennial, of easiest culture, blooming over a long period, and excellent as cut flowers. One of our California nurseries, J. L. Moore, has introduced Erigeron speciosus sempervirens, said to bloom for nine months continuously. The flowers, borne after the fashion of hairy asters, are rosy with yellow centers.

An Eastern form offers "Aster Beauty," the "blue of the sky," a double flower. Fine for the perennial border and unexcelled for cutting.

Another aster like flower long a favorite in the perennial garden is the "Stokes aster," or "Corn-flower aster." In the garden varieties the flowers, which are a great variety of blue, measure 3 to 4 inches, freely produced; the plant reaching a height of two feet. It is as easy to culture as the native aster, and is a native of the Southern Atlantic states. Fine for mounding in a sunny portion of the garden.

Some variety, Stokes' Illinois grandiflora, is an attractive shade of silvery blue with a lilac center. It is a native of the United States, and has flowers 3 inches across on 18 to 20 inch stems. It goes to seed in the fall.

The gardener who is looking for good garden effect with little effort, who appreciates a long blooming season and an abundance of flowers for cutting, would do well to consider these hardy, sun-loving, dependable flowers, the garden forms of our native asters, and their aster like kin.

IT PAYS TO FIND OUT

I thought I was pretty smart when it came to watching prices. Yet nobody can call me a "penny-wise and pound-foolish" buyer. I believe in getting value for my money and my wife agrees with me. However, we did make one blunder. We knew Hills Bros. Coffee was the best but we thought it was too expensive. We felt we could find a cheaper coffee that would please us.

Well, the beating we took was just too bad. Our coffee never did taste right. Finally I said, "Get Hills Bros. Coffee regardless of what it costs." Would you believe it, the price was practically the same as we had been paying for the others, but the coffee was miles ahead in flavor.

Yes sir, it pays to find out instead of just thinking you're right.

THE TWIMMIES

The little fern plant grew and grew. Said Scouty, "This is something new. Of course I've seen plants grow before, but never quite so fast."

"I wonder when it's going to stop. How far it is up to the top! We'd better get more water, if we want the plant to last."

"No doubt, 'twill drink a lot, right now, and, frankly, I just can't see how we're going to give it plenty unless we all lend a hand."

"I'll take my turn and fill the can." Then to a stream he quickly ran. "Let's get a stick," another said, "to help the big fern stand."

A DISTINGUISHING FEATURE

How many Santa Anans have paused for a moment, to give thought to one thing that distinguishes this city and sets it far above any other of its size and prominence, that comes to mind? This is the number of Santa Ana homes that have been opened proudly and happily, to receive little children who otherwise would be homeless and forlorn.

We boast an approximate population of 35,000 souls. Supposing for the sake of argument, we apportion five members to a family, it gives us in round numbers, 7,000 homes. If you were to try to count the number of those homes which have been made complete by the adoption of a child, you would probably have to depend upon the abacus of the Chinese—for you would speedily run out of fingers and toes on which to count.

There is that pleasant suburban home with its encircling orange groves, whose young people now are approaching maturity, safe in the love and protection they would have had from their own parents, had the latter lived. There is a physician, prouder of his title of grandfather than he ever was of that of father. In a dentist's home, both the sturdy small son and his baby sister are there "by selection, not by birth," in a linotype's home, little twin daughters reign supreme. There was no thought, in an insurance salesman's home, of breaking the bond that existed between a manly young lad and his baby sister, and we know a traffic officer who can scarcely wait to return from his duties to the small people that await his coming quite as eagerly.

A kindergarten teacher's success with her pupils is being duplicated in the home with her small sister. The first little "chosen" daughter in a publisher's home now rejoices over a new sister, while in an attorney's home there is no difference in the love lavished on the actual daughter and her special prize, her baby sister. There is a wide-eyed little boy who is breathless with pride in the Spanish War record of his veteran father.

This is but a fraction of the number of interesting examples which the city affords. Contrast the lives of these fortunate children with what they might otherwise have known, and you begin to have some idea of the tremendous measures involved. Could one but look ahead for some two decades and see the results of today's altruism, it would probably be even more illuminating.

For Santa Ana is building for the future and she is building wisely and well. If, through some sad chance, some of these stones fell in the category of those that the builder rejected, even more truly will they prove to be the ones that were most needful of all in the finished temple.

ADDITIONAL RELIEF
APPROPRIATION

In the President's message to Congress for an appropriation for the WPA for the fiscal year, ending July 1st, 1937, he asks, at the present, for an additional appropriation of a billion and a half dollars. He states that they will have a billion dollars unexpended from the present year appropriation; that the request for a billion and a half is based on "industry" absorbing more of the unemployed; that Congress raise the additional income from taxes of approximately a million dollars. If Congress fails to do this and if industry fails to absorb more of the unemployed, it will be necessary to ask for an additional appropriation. He puts it squarely up to industry now to find employment.

In his last message for increased taxes, he suggests that Congress take a "large part of the surpluses of industry as taxes. It is, of course, easy for one man to tell another man to do something, whether it is possible or not. How industry can give additional employment, if its surpluses are to be withdrawn, is hard to understand.

Employment, in the final analysis, by industry is just an exchange or a trading of food, shelter and indulgences (which come from surpluses or savings) in exchange for the new wealth that labor is producing. If this capital (food, shelter and indulgences) is to be taken from the corporations by the government for "boondoggling" work, which creates practically no wealth, how can the corporations exchange this same capital (food, shelter and indulgences) in giving additional employment to create new wealth? If this can be done, no one has ever devised a means whereby two people can consume the same wealth. Two people cannot drink the same bottle of milk. If one drinks it, the other must do without it. It seems to us to be unfair for the President to ask industry (an abstract term created as a straw man) to do something that no one has ever done before, or the President personally has never done. Has the President personally ever exchanged food, shelter and indulgences or labor for the new wealth that labor would create? We believe not. We believe his whole life has been one of "boondoggling"; that is, carrying out enterprises that were not self-supporting—that someone else had furnished the money for.

It seems ordinary justice consists in never asking someone else to do something that you cannot do yourself or cause to be done. If Roosevelt would be a real leader, he should demonstrate personally how, what he asks to be done, can be done. When he does not do this, he is simply spreading envy and hate in our midst. He is dividing the people, which always leads, eventually, to a lower and lower standard of living.

It is impossible for industry to give employment when the Federal Government restricts in every possible way any arrangement that industry makes with labor.

In 1913, the Government passed laws that made it impossible for industry to continue to give employment at wages men should expect. It was then the Government passed the tax graduated upward on income. It was then the Government said, if industry advances food, shelter and indulgences for labor to create new wealth, if the new wealth created exceeds the food, shelter and indulgences advanced, the Government will take a very large part of the new wealth; if food, shelter and indulgences created do not equal the food, shelter and indulgences advanced, the loss belongs to the man who made the sacrifice to originally accumulate the food, shelter and indulgences.

It was in 1913 that the Federal Government passed the Clayton Amendment to the Sherman Anti Trust Law that made it legal for a group to combine for restraint of trade and allowed certain parts of the workers to appropriate such a large fraction of the new wealth produced that there was practically nothing left for those who did not combine and to reward the owner of capital who advanced the food, shelter and indulgences.

With laws like these, the only thing left to do is to inflate—to water the money—to take the food, shelter and indulgences from the savers of the past who have their savings invested in life insurance and bank deposits. It is these people who are now largely supplying the food, shelter and indulgences that are being paid for "boondoggling" and for salaries for the government officials who insist on more of the same kind of laws which got us into this trouble. It would be fine, if industry could both create wealth to pay for "boondoggling" and, at the same time, advance food, shelter and indulgences to give additional employment to create new wealth. But, unfortunately, this wish, this dream, cannot be put into practice. We must follow the natural laws. As long as we refuse to do it, our standard of living will get lower and lower and the only thing that will increase is debts, envy and hate. When we have finally exhausted the savings of the people invested in credits, we will then begin to more rapidly consume the seed-corn so that nothing will be worth private ownership, because it cannot earn enough to support the taxes the government will demand. Then, we will learn!

WHAT MAKES A LOBBY?

Regardless of whether Senator Black and his lobby investigating committee achieve any lasting results from their inspection of telegraph and telephone files used in fighting passage of the Wheeler-Rayburn utility bill, they have already clinched one point. That is the revelation that any company or individual with the funds to stand the toll charges can literally swamp members of Congress with a "wave of protest" directed at any unpleasant measure.

It matters little what those telegrams which Senator Black seized really contained. The point is that anyone who can afford the wire charges can create the appearance of mass opposition to pending legislation.

If Congress gets its teeth into that point and holds on, the Black investigation will be worth the money and effort it costs.

Now That The Farm Bill Has Been Passed—

Day By Day In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1935)

WASHINGTON, March 20.—There is something at once sad and disheartening about President Roosevelt's latest message to Congress revealing the truth about the relief situation.

It is a message which will unhappily stimulate partisan opponents of the president to charge that the whole New Deal has spent about $12,000,000,000 more than has been received and yet there are more than 10,000,000 persons on the unemployed rolls.

But relief problems never should be permitted to become the footballs of partisan politics. That this has happened is as much due to the Democrats as the Republicans. For, if the record is examined, it will be found that the Republicans sat by for the last three years and allowed the relief situation to grow steadily worse without directing public attention to its weaknesses and without calling for an inquiry into the methods that were proving ineffective in the handling of the relief job.

As for the Democrats in Congress, they followed a blind loyalty to the president and refused, with a few exceptions, to assert the independence of the legislative branch of the government as the responsible agent of the people. To this day, there is no explanation of why the president cannot tell the country the approximate number of persons unemployed. No effort has been made to classify the unemployed and to advise each industry and business just how many persons are unemployed in each group.

Nor have constructive steps been taken to aid in the training of unemployed adults in the occupations where there are likely to be shortages. Thus it is contended that there is a shortage today of skilled workers. During the last three years some skilled workers might have been trained to that type of labor.

But, in addition to these mistakes, there is no evidence that business and industry, upon whose shoulders the president now transfers future responsibility for absorbing the unemployed, has had the slightest cooperation from the federal government.

The nearest to a hint as to how business might go about it is now contained in a message whose ambiguous phrases are not likely to be accepted as a stimulus without being further explained. The paragraph in Mr. Roosevelt's message which needs definition reads as follows:

"While the provisions of the anti-trust laws, intended to prohibit restraint of trade, must and shall be fully and vigorously enforced, there is nothing in these or any other laws which would prohibit managers of private business from working together to increase production and employment. Such efforts would indeed be the direct opposite of a conspiracy in restraint of trade. Many private employers believe that if left to themselves they can accomplish the objectives we all seek."

The key to the future of American business lies in those words. In many respects the president's statement on this point is one of the most important he has ever made on the subject of economic progress. For, what the paragraph really implies, is that there can be voluntary action among business men in a given industry to consider ways and means of increasing production and employment. Heretofore court decisions and anti-trust suits filed by the present administration, as well as by its predecessors, have rather frightened business men from meeting together lest they be accused of price-fixing or limitation of production.

The belief has prevailed that industry would gladly employ more men if it could fix or rather stabilize conditions through price arrangements. Unfortunately, the philosophy is ingrained in too many industries. There are other groups, however, which would like to increase production and find ways and means of reducing prices so as to sell a larger volume. But the anti-trust laws have been so rigid as to prevent any real progress being made by conferences among leaders in any industry.

Most important to the reemployment of the idle in all businesses is a reopening of the long term money markets and an improvement in international trade conditions. The securities and exchange act, while splendidly conceived as a means of preventing the fraudulent sale of securities, has gone beyond its proper field and acted as a restraint on new financing. And what the SEC law hasn't done, the New Deal itself has done in unsettling conditions through haphazard attacks on the business structure.

Thus one week business is encouraged to go ahead and reemploy men and the next week it is confronted with a payroll tax. On one occasion it is told to keep men employed and pay the expense out of surpluses and on another it is told to spend its surpluses or else face a penalty tax. Government competition with industry has not yet reached the proportions of actual displacement of many activities, but the approval given by the president to the idea in some instances has led to apprehension that he may favor state socialism in others as well.

On the whole, Mr. Roosevelt's recognition that his own relief program must go on for another year at a cost of around $3,000,000,000 and in recognition as yet of the underlying causes that are preventing business and industry from absorbing the unemployed make the paradox and the conflict a tragic chapter in American history. For, until the stalemate is broken and there is real cooperation between government and business, the defects apparently are to continue around $3,000,000,000 a year, and this, too, in the face of the fact that the public debt has just reached a new high of $31,400,000,000.

Little Renny's
Note Book

By LEE PAPE

We was eating supper and ma said to pop, O Willyum, by the way, I have a message for you.

Do you mean a message of cheer, or is it something about bridge? pop said, and ma said, O, it has no particular significance on either side of the scale. I mean I happened to meet an old school chum of yours and he asked to be remembered to you. He claimed the very mention of his name would bring back a wealth of amusing memories to you, she said.

Was it any particular name? pop said, and ma said, That's the stumbling block, I mean it's on the tip of my mental tongue and I know I'll have it very soon because I applied my memory system to it so I'd be sure to recall it, and my memory system never fails, but just at the moment it keeps evading me.

Yee gods, was it a long name or a short name? pop said, and ma said, It was short and simple, and they're the very ones that I trip up on, so that's the very reason why I applied my memory system. Now let me see, what did I say to myself? O yes, I said, The smith a mitey man was he. You know, Willyum, from the famous Longfellow poem. So that's easy enough, his name must be Smith, ma said.

I can't recall any Smith, at least no Smith that brings back a flood of dear departed hilarity, pop said. He must be been a grate big fellow, with all that mitey man business, he said, and ma said, But he wasn't, he was a little bit of a thin man, that's just the point. Or is it just the point? she said.

That's just the point, pop said, and ma said, It is, it's just the point. I mean the fact that he was so small and thin made me think in terms of opposites, so what I really said to myself was, The smith a mitey man he wasn't. In fact so such an extent that he wasn't even Smith at all, he was just the contrary, he was Jones, ma said.

What Egbert Jones, not old Eggie Jones? pop said, and ma said That's the very man, now what do you think of my system? Pop not telling her.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

A TOP-HEAVY WASHINGTON

There will, of course, be a lot of purely political attacks upon the Roosevelt centralizations of power in Washington.

But there is a very real problem here.

Because the federal government is relatively more efficient in many things than are our state governments, and because, as I pointed out yesterday, it is far easier to get a law passed through Congress for any given reform than to induce forty-eight states to do likewise, there has been for some time a rather indiscriminate gravitation of power and projects into the hands of the federal government.

Is it wise to permit this indiscriminate drift of power to Washington to go on?

There are those who think that by increasing the functions of the federal government we can bring about the enforcement of laws which the states have been unable to enforce successfully.

I doubt it, for the reason that, if centralization goes too far, we will but burden the federal government to the point of unworkability and inefficiency, thus pulling the traditional efficiency of the federal government to the level of the traditional inefficiency of many state governments.

I seriously doubt that a too highly centralized government will ever have the proper regard for the right of states to determine policies which they think best suited to local needs.

A too highly centralized government, I think, inevitably tend to disregard local interests and set up a tyranny of the majority.

And, above all, I am convinced that highly centralized government, particularly in a large country like the United States, will never keep interest in government truly awake, but will dampen such interest in government by taking government too far away from those who are governed.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

"MOTHER'S CHILD"

Bettie, aged seven, was an attentive onlooker at her aunt's wedding. On the way home from church she snuggled close to her mother, took her hand and laid it against her cheek and murmured, "Mother, dear."

"Yes, Bettie, darling," mother returned, snuggling her child still closer.

"Mother, dear, Aunt Chris couldn't have loved granny much or she wouldn't have left her. I'll never marry anybody, mother. I'll never leave you."

"Darling Bettie," was mother's only response to this expression of bondage.

Bettie did not understand her own feelings just then, and nobody else could hope to understand them, much less know precisely what they were. We do know, however, that Bettie was in a fair way to become one of those children who cling to their mothers all their lives either remaining a mother's child for life, or after experiencing with marriage and finding separation from mother impossible, return to her.

It is easy to cultivate a child's affection for its mother to the stage where it becomes bondage. It is sweet to be loved, sweet to feel a dear child leaning upon one's strength, clinging to one's love and care. To continue to accept this dependence, to cultivate it, to keep enjoying it until one develops the better part of a child's life, is selfishness gone to seed. It can result only in harm.

There comes a time, and it usually occurs early in the lives of little children, when their native independence starts into life. "Let me do it," is the first expression of personal power that a child feels. As soon as he makes it stand back, let him try. Praise him for the effort and, if possible, for the success he makes. Know that from then on this child is growing steadily away from his mother toward maturity, toward complete individuality, and rejoice in it. To try to hold the child in childish dependence past the time for it is to make him a child for the duration of his life. Prolonged childhood is nothing to be coveted in this life. Maturity, self-help, self-realization—these are the things. Education aims at making the Self the best possible so that its expression will bless the individual and all those who come in contact with him.

When Bettie said that she would never leave her mother, but cling only to her she was fixing some thing that should have warned her mother and shocked her into realization of what her treatment of the child was leading to. Instead she accepted the devotion and encouraged it. The better way would have been to laugh and say, "By and by, when you are a young woman like Aunt Chris, you will be a bride, too, and wear a lovely white dress and carry a big bouquet and march down the aisle in church to marry a fine young man like your new Uncle." You will be just as happy as Aunt Chris and I'll be sitting in the pew thinking how fine you look. All young women want to be brides. You will, too."

When a child says, "I don't want to go to camp and leave you," "I won't go to boarding school and leave home," "No, I don't want to go with Aunt and Uncle on the trip, unless you come too," don't feel flattered. It is time to feel alarmed; time to correct the over-mothering and to begin to shunt the child off on his own.
